Ashe Named To Head New State Board

Kaukauna Man Selected From Field of 13 Suggested for Job STARTS WORK SOON

Thilmany Personnel Director Says He Will Take Appointment

BY JOHN W. WYNGAARD
Madison—William F. Ashe, personnel director of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company of Kaukauna, today started winding up his affairs preparatory to taking over his new $7,000 a year position as director of the new state department of commerce.

With the unanimous approval of the advisory committee of the department, Governor LaFollette Wednesday afternoon announced the selection of Ashe from a field of 13 approved candidates.

The appointment of a director means that the new state department will soon be organized and functioning. Created along with several other new state capitol agencies during the 1937 sessions of the state legislature, the new department is designed to promote the interests of Wisconsin business and industry along the same lines that the state department of agriculture and markets works for the agricultural industry of the state.

$75,000 Budget
As Director Ashe will have $75,000 to spend before 1939, and will be governed by a 17 member advisory committee consisting of prominent industrialists and business men chosen by Governor LaFollette.

The executive office today pointed out that Ashe had a wide background in industrial activity, including 19 years of service with the Thilmany company as personnel chief. He has acted as laborer, foreman, purchasing agent, and in executive capacities for the American Window Glass company, the American Aluminum company, and the Westinghouse Electric company.

Ashe is a graduate of Mount Union college and has had three years of graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh. While taking his graduate work he taught school and also served as superintendent of schools in the Pittsburgh area.

Worked in West
As a young man he went to California for his health, where he worked as construction superintendent in San Francisco and had charge of a section of relief work after the famous and disastrous San Francisco fire.

From 1910 until the United States entered the World War, he served as director of recreation for the city of Pittsburgh. During his service in the municipal recreation department he had charge of expenditures for a construction program which aggregated more than $7,000,000.

WILL TAKE APPOINTMENT
Kaukauna — W. F. Ashe, whose appointment by Governor LaFollette as the director of the newly organized state department of commerce was announced last night, said this morning that he did not seek the appointment, but that he "would be a piker" if he refused to give his help.

"I did not seek this appointment, and personal comfort and material interests are against accepting it," Mr. Ashe said.

"I have often been a severe critic of government, both state and national, and the governor knows this. This new department in the state government was created to help business and industry in an official place in the councils of government. The governor wants to make conditions for business and industry in the state as near right as is possible and consistent with modern trends. He has asked me to come down and help in the interest of business, industry and good government. I would be a piker to go and refuse. Indeed, I'm happy to go and see if I can help. I ask the patience and helpful cooperation of business and industry as we gradually develop a program. I am not a person who knows all the answers."

A new, no-licking envelope has made its appearance for social correspondence. Business, however, will continue to use the old-fashioned "stick-em" type to get results. Man Arrested As Slayer of Spooner Youth

Woman Names Prisoner as Killer of Raymond Washkuhn

B L A M E S JEALOUSY

Murder Warrant to be Issued for Suspect, Sheriff Says

Spooner, Wis.—(U)—A warrant charging adultery was issued today against Everett Phinn, pending gathering of further evidence to support a murder charge in the slaying of 17-year-old Raymond Washkuhn. Sheriff R. L. Willis said Phinn has been named as the youth's slayer.

Phinn, 31, was arrested today by Sheriff Robert H. Willis. He was charged with the slaying of the youth. Phinn was named as the slayer of the youth's slayer, Raymond Washkuhn. Jealousy was the motive, Willis said.

The sheriff said a murder warrant naming the man would be issued shortly. This accused was arrested at his log cabin in the wilds surrounding the lake yesterday afternoon, and taken to the county jail at Shell Lake. His guard at the jail said that several hours after the slaying, the man admitted shooting Washkuhn, a high school senior, with a .22 rifle last Monday night.

The sheriff said the man had been friendly with Mrs. Whaley and visited her home early Monday evening. About 9 o'clock, two shots were fired into Mrs. Whaley's home, one striking a post of her bed.

Shot From Ambush
Washkuhn left the Whaley house to investigate an apparently was shot from ambush, the sheriff said. Brought back into the house, Washkuhn was urged to name a 17-year-old Spooner youth as his assailant, Willis said he was informed. Washkuhn accused the boy shortly before he died at a Rice Lake hospital.

While doctors were attending Washkuhn at the Whaley home, and the police were investigating, the Lipsie Lake man was hiding under a bed in the room of Mrs. Whaley's kitchen, the sheriff said. He fled to his home later.

The youthful suspect was arrested and detained in jail overnight, but was released after proving an alibi. The sheriff expressed the opinion that the "extortion" note found in Washkuhn's pocket was placed there to lead the authorities on a false trail. The note, he added, was written on a typewriter found in the Whaley home. It demanded that Washkuhn leave an envelope containing $10 at the library and ended with a threatening "or else."

Willis said the 45-year-old Mrs. Whaley, taken into custody yesterday for questioning, admitted she had been keeping company with the Lipsie Lake man and said he was jealous of Washkuhn.

Nazis Gain Strength In Czechoslovakia

Praha—(U)—The Nazi movement in Czechoslovakia gained new adherents today when the German Christian socialist party decided unanimously to dissolve and march with Konrad Henlein's sudeten German (nazi) party.

Erwin Zajicek, representing the Christian socialists in the cabinet as minister without portfolio, resigned.

The addition of six deputies of this party brought Henlein's strength in the chamber to 55, making his bloc the largest in the chamber. Next is the Czech agrarian party with 45 seats.

The government, however, is supported by a coalition of Czechs and Slovaks with a total of 163 of the chamber's 300 members. Also hitherto it has had backing of 11 German socialist deputies, who apparently will continue to support it although declining participation in the cabinet.

House Hearings To Open Monday On TVA Inquiry

Committee Chairman Expects Joint Congressional Probe

Washington—(U)—Chairman O'Connor (D-N.Y.) announced today the house rules committee would begin hearings Monday on proposals for an investigation of the Tennessee Valley authority.

He said his guess was that "there will be a joint congressional investigation." Several inquiry proposals are pending in the senate, chief among them being one by Senator Norris (I-Nebr.) for an independent senate investigation.

O'Connor said the rules committee probably would spend two days hearing sponsors of inquiry plans. Norris insisted on immediate approval of a senate investigation of the Tennessee Valley authority, but both administration leaders and TVA critics were opposing his procedure.

Democratic Leader Barkley declared the inquiry should be conducted jointly by the house and senate.

Senators King (D-Utah) and Bridges (R-N.H.), outspoken critics of the TVA, wanted to write into

Phone Rate Case To Supreme Court

Public Service Body Appeals for Reinstatement of Order

Madison—(U)—The public service commission appealed today to the state supreme court today to reinstate its orders directing the Wisconsin Telephone company to reduce local exchange rates $800,000 a year.

The permanent reduction order and a temporary order cutting the rates $1,017,000 from August, 1934, to August, 1935, were set aside recently by Circuit Judge A. C. Hoppmann who accused the commission of "manifest unfairness" in its five-year investigation of the company.

The appeal was filed for the commission by special State Counsel Harold M. Wilkie. Officials expressed doubt it can be heard by the supreme court until next fall because of the voluminous record.

Some 25,000 printed pages must be prepared for presentation to the court.

The telephone company has placed more than $1,800,000 in a separate fund for repayment to its subscribers in the event it finally loses the case.

Judge Hoppmann sustained a commission order which required the utility to lower its depreciation charges $700,000 a year. Since this reduced operating expenses a like amount, it also may affect rates. The company is expected to appeal from that action.

U.S. Officials Draft Plan to Help Business

Roosevelt Asks Them to Outline Program of Financial Aid

LOANS ARE BASIS

President Turns Over Letters and Proposals From Business Men

Washington—(U)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today President Roosevelt has asked a committee of high federal officials to prepare a program of financial aid to business.

The treasury head, who is chairman of the committee, said the group would "go over various suggestions for loans to industry, including small business, and try to put something together that is constructive."

He added that he felt there was a real need for expanded financing, particularly of small business, but said he did not know whether the government could do anything about it.

One of the first things that the committee will study, he said, is the ability of private institutions to furnish such financing.

Members of Committee

With Morgenthau on the committee are James Roosevelt, son and secretary of the president; Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Vice Chairman Ronald Ransom of the federal reserve board, and Chairman William O. Douglas, chairman of the securities commission.

The president turned over to the committee hundreds of letters and other proposals for aiding business and asked the group to sift them in search for some constructive action.

Morgenthau indicated the study would continue indefinitely. The secretary said the study really dated back to the February conference of small business men here. Easier and more generous financing was one of the principal demands of that group.

Primarily as a result of that conference, President Roosevelt directed the RFC to resume industrial lending.

However, most of the small business men asserted the RFC, like the banks, was too conservative in making loans and that some more liberal method of financing should be devised.

Horse Race Tipsters Face Federal Charges

New York—(U)—More than 60 horse race tipsters with coast-to-coast connections went on the inactive list today as the government charged they never gave their clients an even break.

A fast-moving squad of city detectives and federal officers cordoned the men and women yesterday in raids that closed 14 tipster services which, federal attorneys estimate, grossed $80,000,000 in 18 years. The operators were charged with mail fraud conspiracy.

Federal indictments naming 23 persons—including five brothers in an Adelmann family and their eight brothers-in-law—were the spark-plugs of the drive.

Altogether the number arrested more than doubled the number indicted, although several of those named in the indictments were missing from the flock that overtaxed police headquarters cells.

The indictments, handed over at noon to a raiding party of 50, conceded that tip services were not contrary to federal law but charged the defendants with fleecing victims by false information that races had been fixed.

Father Sees Girl Die When Struck by Auto

Green Bay—(U)—Before the eyes of her father, Dorothy Mae Trinker, 10, was run down and almost instantly killed about 8:30 this morning as she crossed County Trunk V, about three miles east of here, on her way to Bellevue school. She was struck by the car of Lawrence Terrien, route 1, De Pere.

Dorothy Mae had ridden to school in the cab of the county motor highway grader operated by her father, Ray Trinker, route 2, De Pere, and jumped down from the cab into the path of Terrien's car.

This is the second tragedy to strike Trinker's family within a week. His father, William Trinker, died of heart disease after taking his wife to safety when their home was menaced by fire in a next-door tavern last week.

The girl is the second oldest of six children.

Chamberlain Says Britain Will Uphold Treaties but Offers No Pledge to Czechs

London—(U)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today refused to give Czechoslovakia "a prior guarantee" of immediate armed help against German aggression, but he warned Adolf Hitler that a middle European war would drag in other powers.

"Where peace and war are concerned," he told a packed, intent house of commons, "legal obligations are not alone involved, and if war broke out it would be unlikely to be confined to those who have assumed such obligations."

"It would be impossible to say where it would end and what governments might become involved. This is especially true of two countries like Britain and France... devoted to the same ideals of democratic liberty and determined to uphold them."

Chamberlain spoke 57 minutes in presenting his anxiously awaited statement of foreign policy, the most important such declaration by a British prime minister since the World War.

Will Uphold Treaties
He promised Britain would send the new arms she was forging into battle to uphold the treaties she already has, notably those for aid to France and Belgium, and to protect her vital interests.

He urged solution of the problem of Hitler's expanded Germany and Czechoslovakia. He insisted there still were prospects for success in his bargaining with Italy's Premier Mussolini.

But he said Britain must strive for peace, "because we know that in war there are no winners."

Voicing the views of the labor party and others in the opposition, Clement R. Attlee, opposition leader, followed Chamberlain.

"Chamberlain has yielded to force," he declared. "He has left us and the world in the 1914 situation. The prime minister does not seem to realize the full gravity of the situation."

Detective Shot; Suspect Is Held

Milwaukee—(U)—Detective Raymond Carlson of the Milwaukee Police department was shot in the left temple and critically wounded today while attempting to arrest Arthur Wick, 27, in Cudahy, a suburb.

Chief John Medrow of the Cudahy Police department, said Wick died of the shooting.

Wick was captured six blocks from the shooting scene by Patrolman John Jurek of the Cudahy department, who had gone with Carlson to make the arrest. Medrow said a .38 caliber pistol, from which three shots had been fired, was found in Wick's pocket.

Chief Joseph Kulchysky of the Milwaukee department, said Wick shot and severely wounded Detective Paul Heinrich in a gun battle here 10 years ago. He was wanted then on a felony charge. Heinrich recovered and Wick was sentenced to the state reformatory.

Wick had been sought since last December on a warrant charging check forgery. The police learned he could be found in Cudahy and Detectives Carlson and Elmer Dennis were ordered to pick him up.

With Chief Medrow and Jurek, they went to a rooming house in Cudahy.

Carlson covered the rear of the house while Jurek entered. The others followed Jurek when he snatched Wick was inside.

Wick fled through the back door. Medrow said, and Carlson seized him. Dennis and Jurek ran to his assistance, but before they came up, Wick whipped out a pistol, Medrow said, fired three shots and leaped over an alley fence and disappeared. One of the bullets struck Carlson.

Jurek gave chase. He caught and disarmed him after a six-block chase.

Jail Blind Musician For Killing Stranger

Tacoma, Wash.—(U)—R. F. Rouner, 79-year-old blind musician, was robbed several years ago. So he bought a pistol, carried it constantly.

Early today he awoke in his hotel; found a stranger on his bed. Rouner fired aimlessly, he told acting Detective Captain Sam Blake.

Police found Pete Hurtie, 53, dead outside the musician's door. They searched Hurtie's New York attorney, vanished a month ago today.

Favors Flat Rate of 18 Pct. on Corporation Incomes

ADDS TO REVENUE

Administration Leaders Expected to Fight On Floor

Washington—(U)—The senate finance committee eliminated the undistributed profits tax today from the house-approved tax revision bill and submitted a flat rate of 18 per cent on corporation incomes.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the committee said treasury estimates showed the change would provide almost $100,000,000 more revenue than the house bill.

The committee vote to strike out the controversial undistributed profits levy was 17 to 4, with Senators Barkley (D-Ky.), Connally (D-Texas), Bulkley (D-Ohio) and LaFollette (D-Wis.) voting in opposition.

Harrison and all the remainder of the committee lined up in favor of repeal.

Under the senate-approved plan, the house provision for a 4 per cent undistributed profits levy on corporations with annual net incomes of more than $25,000 would be eliminated and a flat 18 per cent rate on corporation income substituted.

House Provision
The house provided a sliding scale of rates from 16 to 20 per cent, the applicable rate depending upon the amount of corporation income distributed to stockholders. There thus was a 4 per cent margin which would tend to force distribution of corporate income.

Harrison and other senate committee members have contended that a flat corporation rate would stimulate business by providing tax certainty.

As in the house measure, the proposal approved by the senate committee provides a special treatment for corporations with a net income of less than $25,000.

Earlier the finance committee decided against including processing taxes in the pending tax revision bill.

Speed Is Motive
Members said the decision was reached in an effort to speed action on the $533,000,000 revenue measure.

Senator Pope (D-Iowa) an author of the recently rejected farm program, suggested "tariff equalization" levies on the processing of various commodities to raise $212,000,000 of revenue for additional farm benefits.

The proposed taxes would apply on cotton, field corn, wheat, tobacco and rice.

Later the committee decided against including war profits legislation in the revenue measure.

Administration insistence on retaining in the bill the principal of taxing undistributed profits drew criticism from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who said the administration exhibited a greater "passion for saving its face" than for helping business.

He predicted that a powerful bipartisan senate bloc would throw its support to any committee recommendation for killing the levy, which the house is to modify.

Fight Due on Floor
Although members have predicted the senate finance committee would eliminate the tax in an effort to stimulate business, administration leaders plan to insist on its retention when the revenue measure reaches the senate floor.

Vandenberg asserted in an interview this insistence on the principal of taxing undistributed profits drew criticism from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who said the administration exhibited a greater "passion for saving its face" than for helping business.

He predicted that a powerful bipartisan senate bloc would throw its support to any committee recommendation for killing the levy, which the house is to modify.

State Barber Code Legal, Judge Finds

Madison—(U)—Circuit Judge A. C. Hoppmann upheld the legality of the state barber code today.

He sustained a demurrer by the trade practice commission to a complaint brought by two Madison barbers, Bennett Baaken and John Clark Mann, who declared the code regulating prices, hours and working conditions is unconstitutional.

In dismissing the suit Judge Hoppmann said it presented no issue that has not already been decided by the courts of last resort in favor of codes.

He added that whether he agrees with the reasoning in the cases decided is beside the question.

Under the code, 2,200 barbers are subject to regulation. The trade practice commission recently announced legal steps to compel 500 delinquent barbers to pay their assessments for administration of the code or close their shops.

Tavernkeeper Hires Picket to Mix Mud So Picketing Stops

New London — The picketing problem at the L. J. Polaski tavern was settled quickly and peaceably yesterday morning — Polaski hired one of the pickets to mix the mortar and haul the brick, thus removing the cause for protest.

Members of the International Hod Carriers and Common Laborers union protested because skilled laborers, two carpenters, were mixing mortar and assisting a bricklayer. They were non-union men. After hiring one of the union pickets the work of closing a former garage door in the tavern building proceeded without further demonstration.

Army Is Preparing To Strengthen Its Defenses in West

Large Part of Fund to be Used on Pacific, in Hawaii and at Canal

Washington—(AP)—Allocations proposed in the $447,808,555 war department bill indicated today that the army, like the navy, is giving particular attention to key defenses in the Pacific area.

The bulk of a $67,488,559 allotment for seacoast defenses was earmarked to strengthen strategic points on the Pacific coast, in Hawaii and at the Panama canal.

Of $12,755,295 requested to meet a "critical" deficiency in anti-aircraft weapons and equipment, $3,735,540 was allotted specifically to the Pacific area.

These are aside from the general provision for men, guns and aircraft to be assigned to mobile forces in all parts of the nation and overseas possessions.

Already some $6,000,000 has been expended on a five-year Pacific coast-Hawaii-Panama canal seacoast defense program begun in 1936.

Army Program Westward
General Malin Craig, chief of staff, told the house military appropriations subcommittee about $25,000,000 would be required to complete it, including $10,000,000 for anti-aircraft weapons.

The army's strategy has taken a westward course since the fleet was concentrated in the Pacific in 1932. The army's task is to defend the navy's shore bases as well as cities and industrial areas.

Exact details of the coast armament program are a military secret, given house committee in confidence. But tables in the published testimony of hearings on the bill listed such items as $2,610,000 for gas-proofing of seacoast fortifications and $1,576,000 for ammunition storage in Hawaii alone.

The war department appropriation bill, the largest received by congress in 18 years, included $6,800,000 asked by President Roosevelt last January for anti-aircraft material.

About $1,000,000,000 of this was earmarked to provide 10 anti-aircraft searchlights for San Francisco and Puget sound, eight searchlights in shelters for Hawaii, six mobile anti-aircraft guns for Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco, and $275,513 to build up supplies of fire-control equipment.

Strengthening of fortifications along the Atlantic coast has been subordinated. Plans for this year called for an outlay of only $41,000 in the vicinity of New York city, whereas nearly $5,000,000 was devoted to the Pacific area.

Congressmen drafting the pending measure were given an army estimate that the United States would have to spend $500,000,000 on construction of new munitions plants in event of a major war.

Chinese Attacks Halt Japanese in Suchow District

Nipponese Strive in Vain To Force Way Across Grand Canal

Shanghai—(AP)—Chinese counter-offensives north of Suchow extended lines of the 10-day-old battle today to a gigantic hairpin 50 miles deep and 30 miles wide along the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

Japanese, after a 375 mile march southward from Tientsin, sought to force a crossing of the Grand canal 22 miles north of the vital junction with the Lunghai railroad at Suchow. But Chinese attacks from both flanks threatened to force a withdrawal.

The bloody battle raged along the shores of Lake Weishan to the west, along the Tsoochung-Taichangwan feeder line to the east and over an ancient countryside dotted with grave mounds.

Chinese claimed success in their attacks upon Tenghsien, Lincheng and Hanchowang, points along the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

But Japanese, admitting strong attacks on their communications route, claimed a force of 3,000 Chinese was decimated when it attempted a crossing of Lake Weishan in a flouilla of Junk boats for an assault upon Lincheng.

Simultaneous air and artillery bombardments made the attack costly and vain, Japanese said.

Japs Edge Forward
To the northeast another Japanese army, battling its way almost by inches, reached a small farming village five miles from Lini, 50 miles from the Lunghai line.

Meanwhile, the long-awaited formation of a Japanese-sponsored government at Nanking, once the capital of the Central Chinese government, was slated for inauguration today.

According to Japanese sources, Liang Hung-Tze will be president of the new puppet government. Liang is a former secretary general under Tuan Chi-Jui, provisional chief executive of China in 1924 and 1925.

Mail service to Nanking will be resumed tomorrow, it was announced, for first time since capitulation of the capital. Radio service also was restored with Peiping and Tientsin.

President Awaits Reaction to Plea For Higher Wages in Southern Area

Warm Springs, Ga.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, established at a vacation retreat here, today read editorial and congressional reaction to his outspoken "enemy stronghold" plea for higher wages in southern industries.

Secluded in his white cottage among the trees on Pine mountain, he called for newspapers of the lower south, "where opposition to his wage-hour bill has centered and whose industries, he declared at Gainesville, Ga., yesterday, are paying their workers wages that are 'far too low.'"

He placed his opponents in and out of congress in the same category with "feudal" overlords and inferentially prophesied those who "opposed progress" would fall to meet the test in the fall elections.

To a throng massed in Gainesville's new civic center and to congressional wage bill opponents seated on the same platform with him he said bluntly:

Listeners "Surprised"
"To those in and out of public office, who still believe in the feudal system—and believe in it honestly—the people of the United States and in every section of the United States are going to say 'we are sorry, but we want people to represent us whose minds are cast in the 1938 mould and not in the 1898 mould.'"

Some of his listeners expressed "surprise," privately, at the tone and nature of the address and refused to comment on the references to wages in "Georgia and the lower south."

Two other Georgia audiences—depot groups at Toccoa and Griffin—were amused, however, at informal talks, especially when the chief executive said he expected to do a lot of "sleeping" during his 10-day stay at the Infirmary Foundation.

Arriving late yesterday in the rain, the president drove immediately to his cottage with his house guests, Frank C. Walker, former head of the national emergency council, and Basil O'Connor, former law partner and president of the new National Infirmary Foundation, both of New York. No callers were on his schedule today.

recognize their own mistakes and penitence in trying to treat a sore head with a hammer.

Discussing the speech, Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash.), an administration supporter, said that although there had been some talk of a "moratorium" on administration proposals, "the speech indicates the president is ready to start fighting again."

Usually well-informed officials said Mr. Roosevelt would ask congress in about 10 days to decree eventual abolition of bank holding companies.

The president took with him to Warm Springs, Ga., a report of his interdepartmental banking committee, which, it was learned, recommended immediate regulation and eventual abolition of bank banking.

Mr. Roosevelt's speech yesterday at Gainesville, Ga., in which he said wages in the south were "far too low," was acclaimed by his supporters as presaging a new campaign for enactment of a wage-hour bill. A house subcommittee is studying a substitute for the measure side-tracked last winter.

Senator Bailey (D-N.C.) said he believed Mr. Roosevelt had "the utmost good faith" in advocating wage-hour legislation but he thought southern opposition was not based "on any feudalistic or fascist conception."

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said he could agree with the president's statement that a "selfish minority" was retarding progress, but he added:

Raps Administration
"I would identify these few as the topmost managers of the Roosevelt administration, who decline to be identified with the administration."

Hirota told the diet Shanghai's lucrative maritime customs receipts, part of which are pledged as security for foreign loans, would be acquired and administered by the new Japanese inspired Central Chinese government.

(Rates of payment on the loans will be revised, since there has been a change in the revenues, he said, and tariff rate revision is being studied.)

Dealers Endorse State Milk Order Under 'New Deal'

ducers but of the department, and they are reluctant to take on the responsibility for the order," Kuenning said.

Places Responsibility
"The department is now putting the responsibility for the order back in the hands of the producers and dealers, and they will be made party to the agreements."

He went on to say that the present state law under which the milk order is set up expires Dec. 31, 1939 and that if it is not renewed, the market arrangement should be in such condition that the dealers could carry on without disrupting the market.

Chaotic conditions have prevailed in the Appleton market with perhaps 50 per cent of the dealers "chiseling" on the milk order, he charged. He said the department has evidence on which it could prosecute about 15 dealers or take away their licenses.

"However, we do not want to try to keep about 50 per cent of the dealers in line while the rest cooperate," he said. "Either the majority of the dealers must cooperate or there won't be an order. The department is willing to cooperate if the number of 'chiselers' can be kept at a minimum."

Evidence in Abeyance
Kuenning told the dealers that the department would hold the evidence it has against the "chiselers" in abeyance if cooperation on enforcement of the order was promised. The evidence, which is good for five years, would be added to other charges against dealers found violating the milk order in the future, he explained. Those violating the order in the future will be vigorously prosecuted, although threats in the past to the same effect were not carried out, he warned.

The dealers, after voting to back the order, were told to take the next week to put their "houses in order." The department will put two men in the territory with the work, Kuenning said. If necessary, another meeting will be called to discuss price and other changes the dealers may want in the order. Informal meetings will be held before a formal hearing is called on proposed changes or new measures, Kuenning assured the group.

Kuenning also explained that when the dealer is getting a proper and fair price for his milk, the consumer also benefits by getting better and more wholesome milk.

sign policy, which is the maintenance and preservation of peace," he said.

"However," he warned, "that does not mean that nothing would make us fight."

Cheer Declaration
Cheers greeted this declaration.

Chamberlain, presenting his anxiously-awaited statement of foreign policy, spoke to a packed house.

Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador, sat in the diplomatic gallery for the first time, with diplomats representing many other world powers.

The prime minister continued: "We are bound by certain treaty obligations which would entail upon us the necessity of fighting if the occasion arose; and I hope no one doubts that we should be prepared in such event to fulfill those obligations."

"Our object must always be to preserve those things which we consider essential without recourse to war because we know that in war there are no winners."

Questions League Power
"I do not deny that my original belief in the league (of nations) as an effective instrument for preserving peace has been profoundly shaken. That arises from the present condition of the league itself, due to recent events."

The prime minister said, however, he had not "ceased to believe that the league might be so revived and strengthened as to serve as an effective instrument for the preservation of peace."

Chamberlain was greeted by cheers when he entered and when he rose to speak.

Besides Kennedy, diplomats of Soviet Russia, France, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, China and other powers followed the address. Envoys of Germany and Italy apparently were not there.

Must Be Strong
"If Britain is to make a substantial contribution toward the establishment of what is our strongest interest (peace), we must be strongly armed," Chamberlain added.

"I cannot see any object in trying to make a difference between the armaments required for defense and armaments required for the purpose of fulfilling international obligations."

"The government already has placed on record a judgment on the action taken by the German government, and to this I have nothing to add."

This was a reference to Germany's annexation of Austria, which Chamberlain denounced in his last previous speech in commons.

"The consequences of that action remain," he said. "There has been a profound disturbance of international confidence. The problem before Europe is how to restore this shaken confidence."

"The solution of the question of relations between Czechoslovakia and the German minority in that country would go far to re-establish a sense of stability over an area much wider than that immediately concerned."

The prime minister was cheered when he quoted Anthony Eden who resigned as foreign minister when he split with Chamberlain over the foreign policy outlined in this statement—to this effect:

"Nations can not be expected to incur automatic military obligations save for areas where their vital interests are concerned."

This constituted his expected announcement that Britain would not declare war automatically if Germany invaded Czechoslovakia.

nomination probably should be considered on its merits.

Bridges, however, termed Morgan's ouster illegal and said he would challenge any nomination with the contention that no vacancy exists.

Scores Removal
Bridges said he was undecided whether to put the resolutions before the senate, although yesterday he told the senate that Morgan's removal amounted to "convicting an innocent man without a fair trial."

"To be fair," he said, "congress should proceed at once to remove the other directors or suspend them."

Senator King, Bridges' ally, declared he would support no movement to censure the president, because the latter thought he had ample grounds for dismissing Morgan.

King also expressed doubt that he would challenge Mr. Roosevelt's expected nomination of a third TVA director. Since Morgan's removal may be legal, he said, the

So Now George Spelvin Is Picketing His Own House

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

San Francisco—As George Spelvin, American, was shaving himself one day last week, all of a sudden, Wham! A half-brick fans our friend's car and busts a gouge of plaster out of the wall. Mr. Spelvin took a look out the window and saw a whole mob of guys walking up and down wearing signs reading "George Spelvin unfair to organized labor," "George Spelvin is a dirty fink," "Spelvin is a scab," and so forth.

"Hey, what's your trouble?" Mr. Spelvin demanded.

"Boo!" "Lousy scab!" "Fink!" "Rat!" the mob yelled.

"Why, you no good bums," Mr. Spelvin yelled, losing his temper. "I been a union man 20 years, and most of you dirty bums couldn't even get into a union. Who the hell sent you around here, anyway?"

"The barbers' union sent us," yelled the spokesman. "The barbers declare George Spelvin unfair because he shaves himself."

"Well, that's a hot one," Mr. Spelvin said. "According to that, the barbers ought to beat the cars off the whole crowd of you mugs because you ain't even washed your ugly muzzes in a year, much less bought you a shave."

Well, just about then Mr. Spelvin's loving old lady pokes her head out of the kitchen and yipped: "Hey, pa, come here. There's a lot of bums out in back here walking up and down insulting me!"

"No kidding," said George. "What about?"

"Come and look, you dirty coward!" Mrs. Spelvin yelled back.

"Why would I be kidding about bums insulting me? I haven't been insulted that way in 20 years. These mugs are insulting me about union stuff." So George went back to the kitchen just as a target eye skunked against the window and some cabbage and things landed on the porch.

"Hey!" George yelled. "Are you guys out of your mind? What's the idea heaving stuff at my love bower and yelling insults at my dream girl?"

She Does Her Own Washing And Hauling

"Your old lady is unfair to organized labor," one guy hollered.

"For gossakes, brother, you're leaping," George said. "My old lady ain't union, mister, non-union or anything else. Union is just—no, never mind one way or another with her. She's a home girl. She don't have no job. Try next door."

"No, not next door. George Spelvin's old lady is a dirty fink, scab, rat, bum! Boo!" the one guy yelled. And the rest of the crowd kind of liked the sound of that, so they started dancing up and down and yelling, "Fink!" "Scab!" "Rat!" "Bum!" "Boo!" over and over.

"Puddin'," George said to his wife, "no foolin'. Have you been two-timing me, out holding down a job on me while I'm away at work?"

The old girl gave him a look.

"Somebody must be nuts," she said. "Where would I be getting time to hold down a job? And, anyway, do you think I'm that crazy about work?"

"George Spelvin's old lady is unfair to the laundry workers," a mug yelled. "She does her own washing."

"Oh! Now it comes out!" the old girl said. "Well, my hero, it looks

Vegetable Rows Should Run North And South in Plot

Well-Planned Garden Easier to Cultivate. Yields Most

Pegler

While good vegetables will grow in crooked rows or even if the seed is broadcasted over beds, the work of cultivating and caring for the plants is immeasurably reduced if the seed is sown in straight rows. Take the trouble to stretch a line, and mark the row with exactness; it will save hours when the time comes to push a wheel hoe down the aisle between them.

Rows running north and south are best to let sunshine reach the soil after the plants are well grown. Distance between the rows may vary considerably. In small gardens, well supplied with plant foods, rows of low-growing crops may be as close as 6 inches.

The best distance for crops not exceeding 2 feet in height is 18 inches, while enables you to cultivate each aisle in one trip with the wheel hoe. Seed catalogs usually state the space which each crop needs. These are relative rather than exact directions; you may vary them somewhat to fit your special needs, but remember that crowding your crops may reduce the yield.

Time spent in thinking out a garden program, deciding what you want to grow, and then drawing a plan, will be well repaid by results. Transferring this plan to your garden area is easy, if you proceed methodically. An evening's thought may save afternoons of labor; not that labor isn't good for you, but walters got some guy down for being unfair. It ain't no headche, but we got to stand together. Bring your old lady, too."

So what do you know? Day after day old George and the No. 1 doll union, and the guy on the other end said, "Everybody turn out and picket 222 Slug street. Barbers, laundry guys, teamsters, bus drivers, bookkeepers, garment guys and 'boo, and so is his old lady."

why waste it? In most gardens there will be other things to do. Your plan should provide for the whole season. This means in some cases, two or more crops grown in the same row. Where several successive crops of the same vegetable are desired, there are two methods of getting them. Either sow at about the same time early, mid-season and late varieties, which will come into yield at different times, or make several sowings of the same variety, ten days or two weeks apart.

Where directions say sow in a drill, it means a shallow furrow. Sowing in hills does not mean in elevations, unless you live in a section of heavy rainfall. It means a series of spots, evenly spaced, at each of which several seeds are shown, as contrasted with the continuous row which is termed a drill. Vine crops are usually sown in "hills," and they need room to spread.

Plan your garden so that early sowings are made at one end, and the rows are added in regular order, as planting proceeds, so that the planted area is always complete without vacant space. This simplifies cultivation and irrigation. Remember that to sow in straight rows, to thin out properly so your plants have room to grow, to cultivate faithfully so that weeds never grow, and protect your plants against insects and diseases—these four points carefully observed will make your garden one of professional quality.

Appleton Invests Nearly $200,000 In Savings Bonds

City Seventeenth in State In Per Capita Sale During Year

Appleton citizens bought United States savings bonds valued at $198,862.50 from Sept. 1, 1936, to Sept. 1 of last year, according to a report issued by the United States Post Office department.

Bonds totaling $185,081.25 were purchased at the post office and the remainder, $13,781.25, were obtained through money orders. Appleton ranks seventeenth in the state in per capita sale of the bonds for the 1-year period. Fort Atkinson is first, Ripon second, Janesville third, and Milwaukee fourth.

Postmaster Stephen Balliet said today that the 371 Appleton persons bought bonds during the year, averaging $498 on each purchase.

Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury, has reported that the total maturity value of United States savings bonds sold through March 7 was $1,584,462,875. This total was purchased by more than 1,250,000 investors and represents an average sale for each business day since March 1, 1935, when the bonds were first sold, of $1,720,375.

A record for one day's sale of Savings Bonds was set on Monday, January 10, of this year, when $10,029,775, maturity value, of these bonds were reported sold. Sales by post offices throughout the country on that day represented $9,025,350, maturity value of bonds, and direct-by-mail orders were received in Washington for savings bonds of a maturity value of $1,004,425.

The sale of savings bonds for the calendar year 1937 was $4.2 per cent. greater than for 1936, and the year 1936 exceeded the ten-months' sale of these bonds in 1935 by $2.8 per cent.

The total maturity value sale for the calendar year 1937 amounted to $635,419,175, with approximately 600,000 purchasers, and an average sale for each business day of $2,090,200.

THE COST OF A LITTLE COMMISSION

Senator Holt made one of his bitter West Virginia attacks on the administration recently that presented, however, some facts the people should have, thus indicating again that when men in high places fall out some truths may become evident that should not be snubbed and disregarded.

Mr. Holt dealt with the beautiful blossoming of bureaucracy at Washington and held up as an example the national Bituminous Coal Commission, one of the recent structures erected by the administration and the purpose of which was to fix the prices of certain coal in the various zones into which the country is divided.

We dare say the people have no conception of the money spent on that one comparatively small and unimportant commission, but, observing it, they may gather some slight idea of the staggering and stupendous cost to America of its growing and suffocating bureaucracies.

This commission consists of 1,261 people. That is a fair sized army just to fix coal prices. Why so many employees?

But it takes a lot of "experts" to settle such profound questions, and they must be experts because it is experts who receive fancy salaries.

Working for this commission are sixty-nine people receiving salaries from $5,000 to $10,000 each per annum.

Nor is the money paid in salaries to a great many otherwise useless political hacks the most important part of the outlay. Senator Holt produced the official figures for travel last year and found that these employees of this one small commission had been reimbursed to the tune of $235,000 for their stated or alleged outlays for travel; and that they had enriched telephone and telegraph companies by the sum of $68,500 for their messages. Even the air mail doesn't carry their important discoveries fast enough. The clicking telegraph instruments are slow where such important public business is concerned.

So far this price fixing commission has not accomplished a great deal except for its 1,261 members.

But to them its operations are quite satisfactory.

SEX LITERATURE

The campaign recently originated locally in conjunction with a state-wide movement against salacious literature is entirely justified by the morbid heights reached by cheap literature in this country in recent years. The situation is such that a clean-up campaign has long been in order.

The test of the value of any such reform movement, however, lies in its effectiveness. It is to be hoped, that judged on this basis, the present campaign will be a great success.

Cheap magazines have appeared in droves in the last year or two whose reading matter, illustrations and advertisements may be truly said to have offended the decency of all normal-minded citizens in the United States.

And when such a stage is reached, the offenders must necessarily provoke a storm of protest which will bring down the walls of public opinion squarely upon them.

Motion pictures reached such a stage, and a liberal and broad-minded clean-up campaign was the result. The theater, particularly burlesque houses, violated decency to the point where they too were curbed.

During this time the field was left open to peddlers of salacious literature until they also must now be suppressed.

Such a campaign must not be rabid or sensational in itself lest it destroy its own purpose. The blackguard seeks always an opportunity to have himself labelled a martyr. It must also be conducted over a wide territory and it must appeal to the decency and the intelligence of the people who have been offended.

This drive is so molded. The principal line of attack will be education, through homes, schools and societies. Readers of such literature will be given a bit of timely advice as to how much of their young lives they are wasting by devoting their minds to degradation instead of education.

That advice they may take or leave. They will take it because it is right and decent and the minds of normal young persons naturally turn in that direction.

YOUTH CAMPS

Dr. Jay B. Nash, professor of education at New York University thinks we might well borrow an idea from the totalitarian governments—government provision of camps for all young people. But that is as far as he would go in taking over any Nazi or Fascist treatment of youth.

The camps would take boys and girls off the streets and away from various bad influences. They would provide wholesome, constructive activity. Run as they should be run in a democracy, they would be free of all dictation from overhead. In fact, children in such camps should learn much about democratic procedure and cooperation.

The CCC has already tackled part of this job. Private camps for Girl and Boy Scouts, Camp Fire groups, Y.M. and Y.W.C.A. camps, and a host of others have provided just such opportunities for young people. There are charity organizations which send youngsters from city slums to country camps and farms for a short time every summer. All of these camps do what Dr. Nash recommends, but they reach only a fraction of the children and young people who need them.

Certainly the summer camp and the winter recreation center are activities which should receive the support of every intelligent citizen, but many will question whether they should be the concern of the federal government.

"LAWFUL" AGGRESSION

One of the curious things about the German dictator is his regard for "legality." It has been pointed out that, in the rough and irregular course by which he has risen to supreme power in Germany and won point against allies and neighbors, he always claims some legal authority.

This was the case in his original parliament house coup, his seizure of the chancellorship, his blood purge, and so on. He might break precedents and establish tyrannies in defiance of basic law, constitutionality and ethics, but he has always managed to find a legalistic pretense.

Thus in his seizure of Austria, a country as independent as Germany by the law of nations, he invited Chancellor Schuschnigg to Berchtesgaden and bulldozed him into appointing a German stooge—Arthur Seyss-Inquart—to his cabinet. Seyss-Inquart then became Austrian Chancellor when Schuschnigg resigned under threats of military invasion, and the German troops that arrived and took possession of Austria came at Seyss-Inquart's official invitation. So it was all in due legal form.

This respect for a legal front of course suggests that Hitler isn't really so sure of himself as he pretends to be. Napoleon never bothered about technicalities. It is probably a result of the shock he got, years ago, when he was jailed for unlawful speech-making.

WOMEN WHO WORK

Current criticism of women who work for pay outside the home might lead the unthinking to believe that they do it chiefly from selfishness. Particularly are married women who work regarded as greedy beings who want unnecessary luxuries and are willing to deprive others of opportunity in order to have them.

But a study made by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs finds that the women who work for pin money are few in number, that most women work because they have to earn their own living. Half of them support someone besides themselves and one-sixth of those reporting are heads of households of two to seven members. Only 3 per cent of the whole group make no financial contribution at home for themselves or any other person.

Perhaps fewer women should have to work in business, industry and the professions. But if all of them retired tomorrow there would be a dangerous financial, economic and social collapse.

CURFEW IN REVERSE

The residents of Baxter, Tenn., must be patient and kindly folk, with good nervous systems. At least, they have borne without violent protest the voluntary services of a human alarm clock whose hobby would not be popular in most towns.

Fourteen years ago this citizen decided to take upon himself the task of waking the folks up in the morning. Every day at six o'clock he climbs a pole in his back yard and from its top sends the bugle notes of reveille into the morning peace. He performs this "service," he says, in spite of the fact that none of his neighbors ever "requested" it.

An outsider can't understand why they have never requested him not to do his daily bugling. Perhaps they are good sleepers.

Opinions Of Others

FRANKLIN'S EXAMPLE

Young people who think there is little chance for them to get places of usefulness should study the life of Benjamin Franklin, who was born 232 years ago today. He not only found jobs, he created jobs and laid foundations for jobs making that affect the prospect of young men and women in our time.

The outlook for Franklin as a boy didn't appear to be good. He was the fifteenth of the 17 children of his family. There wasn't much talk of forbidding child labor in those days. Franklin was a regular worker in his father's tallow chandler's shop when he was 11. The following year he was apprenticed to his brother, a printer. He learned the trade but tired of it after five years and ran away. He tried New York and couldn't find steady employment. He made his way to Philadelphia and began a career.

HOLE-IN-THE-WALL VOLLEYBALL

If "the boys" drop in just after you've lent your poker chips to John Jones and baby has ruined the siphon bottle by using it as a toy gas pump, don't fret for want of entertainment for volleyball has invaded the smallest of domains.

The first requisite, of course, is a ball with which to volley. If the participants are scruffy enough, it is possible to get along without one but the best of circles usually consider it a necessary item. A balloon serves the purpose as long as two opposing players don't hit it at the same time. If this happens, one can always fall back on checkers. At any rate, dig a balloon out of the playbox and inflate it to the best of your puffblivity.

Probably the largest space in a 9x10 apartment is the living room so that should be designated as the court. It is advisable to remove vases, ash trays and pictures but it is not necessary if the little woman is visiting Aunt Tilly. The radio and davenport serve as side boundaries while a person will surely know he's at the end of the court if he backs into a wall fixture or falls out the window.

An imaginary net is without equal but if there is a materialist in the crowd, a string can be stretched between the floor lamps. It is understood, again, that the sport must be modified according to the presence or absence of the better half, who, for some strange reason, doesn't appreciate the values of hole-in-the-wall volleyball.

Contestants should be sober enough to distinguish between the balloon and that fish bowl that your mother-in-law gave you as a wedding present. Warm nights are especially suited for the tilts and a roaring fire in the furnace makes things just ducky.

Rules can best be determined as the game progresses and scoring is but a minute detail. A pitched volley or heated argument are two of the most effective ways of awakening baby and about the time father is braying the injustices of the world in scolding tones, you can be sure that the Mrs. will walk in. A little fancy footwork will probably take care of rug wrinkles but it takes more than footwork to explain a broken lamp shade.

Needless to say, at this point the game should be called and the wife promised a new spring hat.

IT NEVER FAILS TO HAPPEN

Cleaning the basement,
Shoes are a wreck;
Hair helter-skelter.
Grime on your neck.
Apron all filthy
Look like a bum.
Door bell is ringing.
Company's come!

Mrs. G. W.

And so it goes—

STOO

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

I WILL PLANT A GARDEN

I will plant a garden.
Where the earth is scarred,
Blissome will shed beauty
On my little yard.
I will hide the alley.
Soon the roving bee
Will find honeysuckle
And a lilac tree.

I will plant a garden.
Weeding from my life
Envy, distrust, and
Bitterness and strife.
Flowers of religion,
Faith, serene and bright,
Will bloom in my garden
For my soul's delight.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, March 22, 1928

Appleton motorists will be able to drive to Minneapolis and St. Paul on a paved road, with the exception of a 24-mile stretch of gravel by the end of 1928, according to an announcement by the state highway commission.

Miss Katherine Jackson has arrived at Neenah to take over a beauty parlor which she purchased from Mrs. Hulda Elmquist, who has gone to Cranston.

Mrs. Charles Friedland, Nicolet boulevard, Menasha, is confined to her home with an injured ankle.

Daughters of the American Revolution will meet at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Nixon, 814 N. Superior street. Assistant hostesses will be Mr. L. S. Wolf, Mrs. Beulah Mitchell and Miss Irene Bidwell.

R. M. Kanik was reelected president of the Moloch Machinery and Foundry company of Kaukauna at the annual meeting Wednesday night at the offices of the company. Other officers are Frank Charlesworth, Sr., vice president; Joseph J. Jansen, treasurer; Hugo Weisenbach, secretary. Other directors are H. C. Cooke, C. E. Raught, Charles Jacobson, L. G. Nelson and J. J. Martens.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, March 27, 1913

Matt Schmidt was in Milwaukee today on business.

Mike Mack of Shiocton called on Appleton friends today.

C. F. Fiedler of Seymour was a visitor at the courthouse today.

About 250 Eagles attended the initiation of a class of 15 candidates at Eagles hall last evening.

E. J. Schaefer of Clayton is the owner of the greatest cow in the state in the point of butter produce. Her record for seven days was 34.85 pounds of butter, practically five pounds a day. At a recent caucus in the town of Buchanan, the following persons were nominated for town officers: Chairman, D. J. Ryan; supervisors, Mike Nytes, August Wundrow; clerk, F. C. Shuler; assessor, Peter Riese, treasurer, John Van Roy; justice of the peace, John Devine, Peter Bruecker; constable, Nick Tom, August Beatz.

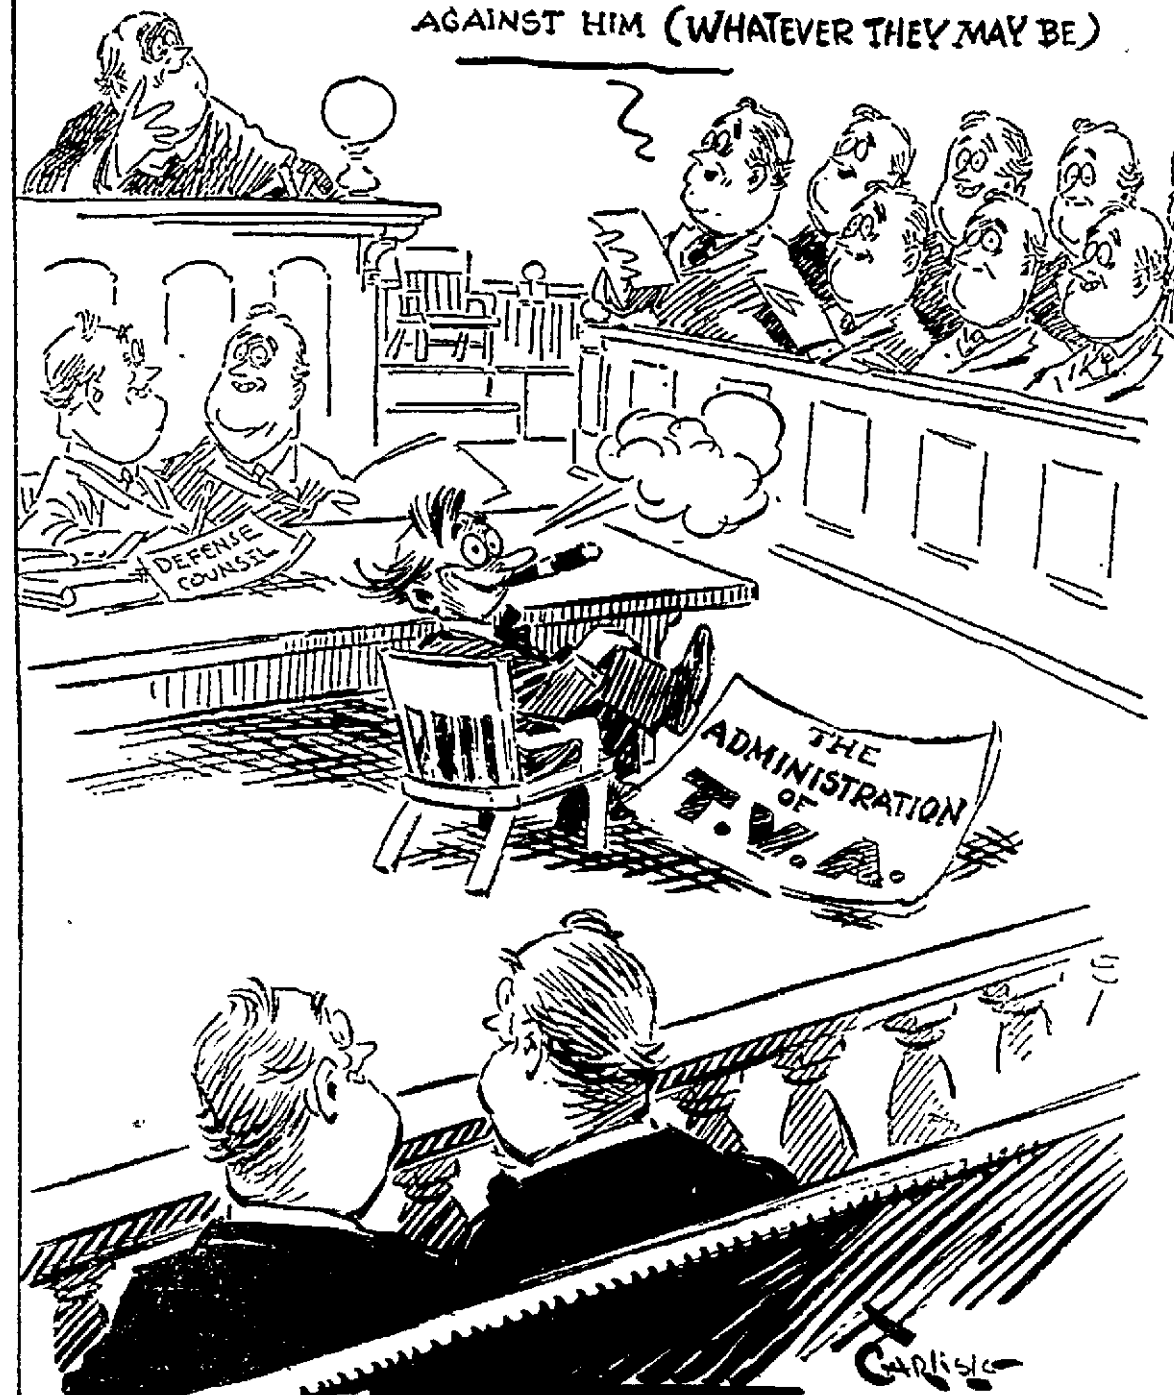

which brought fame to that city and glory to his country.

In a pioneer society where money was scarce and opportunities were few, Benjamin Franklin became a printer, a publisher, a scientist, a founder of a college, a prime mover in founding the American Philosophical society, a renowned diplomat, a founder of the first public library in America, and a statesman and man of letters.

Young people should review the life of Franklin today and take courage.—Detroit News.

HOW'YA CHEWING, CRIPPLE?

Young children are at first indifferent towards physical defects, deformities or marked variations in size, form or color. After a year or two they begin to notice these differences and perhaps to cause considerable embarrassment by calling attention to them. Still later they are taught to repress their instinctive impulses and to pretend the crippled or "funny looking" individual is just like all others.

People above the moronic level of intelligence and of good moral character regard tattooing of the human body for any other purpose than to obliterate or conceal scar or blemish as a vicious thing. Physicians in routine practice regard such mutilation of the body as evidence of frail character and a lack of self-respect. Our legislatures, however, never pass statutes against this hideous business; it seems harmless enough to the practical politician.

All the world, at least decent folk look with pity and contempt upon the individual who deliberately accepts permanent crippling from a dislocated jaw, let us say, or a sprained sacroiliac junction rather than have the trouble properly treated. Such an individual is popularly consigned to a level little above that of the professional beggar who exploits his physical defect or even feigns incapacitating defect in order to draw alms from the glib public.

But our civilization is still pretty crude and our self-respect is not so much greater than that of the mental and moral defectives indicated. On the inside where it is not obvious to the casual observer an astonishingly large proportion of us accept remediable defects which at least lower our physical efficiency and frequently incapacitate us or even bring fatal illness. And to our shame be it said we accept such handicaps for precisely the same reasons that the moron elects to limp thru the remainder of his life with a sacro-iliac subluxation, namely, because (1) we are cowardly and fear the examination and proper treatment may hurt a little; and (2) we are too stingy or negatively to spend money for such treatment if we can possibly limp along without it, yet still retain a semblance of respect from our acquaintances; and finally (3) our education, culture or civilization is only skin deep, after all; at heart we are as primitive as the lowest.

I'm talking about teeth.

How'ya chewing, I mean YOU. On one side, if at all! Millions of other semi-civilized cripples are handicapped as you are, if that gives you any comfort.

Were it not for the secretiveness of such cripples about their concealed defects we might arrange a contest and offer a prize, say the cost of a bridge, for the cripple who has kept going longest with the widest gap in his teeth.

Your Birthday

"ARIES"

If March 25 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:45 a. m. to 12:45 p. m.; from 2:45 p. m. to 4:45 p. m.; from 8:45 to 10:45 p. m. The danger periods are from 8:45 to 10:45 a. m.; from 4:45 to 6:45 p. m. and from 10:45 p. m. until midnight.

You only believe what you think, so keep your thoughts cleared of wrong conceptions, apprehensions and sentiments this day if you wish it to be a happy one. Facial expressions will convey impressions of intimidation, defiance, love, hate, and the rest of human emotions, so it will be good judgment to keep yours under control. The rugged individualism of someone you may contact this day, should prove of great help in aiding you to make up your mind regarding some policy to pursue in solving a personal problem. It will pay to do all you have to do with good grace, for fussing will do little good this day. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who have found the "one and only" person they would like to marry, must avoid any form of obstinacy this day, if they wish to be happy.

If a woman and March 25 is your birthday, you are probably an advanced thinker and very broad-minded, especially when it comes to being tolerant regarding other people's views. You probably love anything of a speculative nature, and may be inclined to take more long chances in business than is wise. Ambition makes you very enterprising and should prevent your ever getting into a rut. You are apt to be very artistic, so you might do exceptionally well as an artist, interior decorator, designer, sculptor, architect or gift or beauty shop manager. You perhaps will marry a Prince Charming and live long and happily ever after.

The child born on March 25 is generally endowed with a quick mind and a body that coordinates with it perfectly. In the field of sports this youngster's skill and prowess might win gratifying recognition. Children born on this date usually win their way through to success with very little difficulty.

If a man and March 25 is your natal day, it might take time for your big opportunity to make money or win fame to come along, but when it does the chances are you will take full advantage of it. As an electrical engineer, florist, inventor, manufacturer, salesman, author, financier, promoter or scientist you may command a large income.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY GEORGE TUCKER

New York—One of the conspicuous wall decorations in Ted Harris' office in the old Empire Theater building is a group of newspaper clippings proudly framed on one vast board and hung where all may see.

These are the reviews of "B roadway," the play that launched Harris and so many other unknowns on successful theatrical careers, and though it has been a full decade since "B roadway" first caused the hardened realist observers to rub their eyes and hasten back to their typewriters, his face still breaks into a smile every time it is mentioned.

Mr. Harris is a slim, well groomed young man who started from scratch and earned $5,000,000. That he lost it in Wall Street has no bearing on his record as a Broadway producer. At the moment he has two shows in the hit class, and he probably will do another by Ernest Hemingway whom he recently visited at Key West.

For some time now Mr. Harris hasn't thought much of the New York critics, and when I asked him what he thought of the reviews on "Our Town" which he has now in two hits, he thought for a moment and said: "They were on an average level of unintelligence." About the reviews on "A Doll's House" "These struck a very high level of unintelligence."

He thinks not only the critics but the playwrights will have to bring themselves up to the level of ten years ago if the theater is ever to be "the theater of pure entertainment" again. And just now he doesn't think much of the present playwrights, who gave their all in Hollywood and race back to N. Y. occasionally with a left-over script. The main hope, he feels, lies in new writers, such as Thornton Wilder and Hemingway, "who is passing through a transition just now which may conceivably make him a great man as well as a great writer."

Incidentally, while talking play with Hemingway, Mr. H. found opportunity to accompany him on a fishing trip and also a hunt. "He was enthusiastic about my shooting," Harris recalls, grinning. "He says he'd like to turn me loose against the Spanish fascists."

As for Hemingway's play, which will touch on the Spanish war, Harris says little beyond the fact that he talked shop with Ernest and feels the script has merit. After four days in Florida he returned, and five days later Hemingway's play agent flew to New York, carrying only a briefcase and a small bag. It is probable that he brought with him a revised script for Harris to read. At any rate, if Harris does decide to do it, you can be

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESION GROVER

Washington—A million or more babies born in 1917, the year the United States entered the war, now are coming on 21 and the world isn't especially free of war for them as yet—but they are not taking it sitting down.

The youngsters have taken to Washington to try to badger their Congressmen and the whole government into stalling out a half billion dollars to help them either to go to school or obtain vocational training.

They have a central body called the American Youth congress made up of delegates from about 50 organizations ranging from the Young Communist league to the Y. W. C. A. and the Methodist Epworth league.

Unavowed Senator

Like casual tourists, they gawk at photographers and the costly marble pillars that uphold dignity on Capitol Hill but they look upon Senators as their special meat. What they may lack in mental maturity they make up in persistence. The enthusiastic patriotism of Senator Lee, "boy orator" from Oklahoma, who presided at the hearing on their half-billion bill, could not awe some of the witnesses who looked sourly on the way the government was run.

Robert Kelsy of Louisville, Ky., representing 4,500 members of the Young People's Socialist league, told the committee:

"I speak for an organization that believes it more important to provide jobs and education for young people than protection for Standard Oil tankers on the Yangtze river." He contended that one 65 million dollar battleship would send 108,333 students through a year of college at $800 each.

More than a hundred delegates, mostly from eastern cities, flocked into a huge committee room to present their case.

They speak of themselves as "the lost generation."

At the hearings they applauded their own witnesses and hissed on occasions when they thought the committee members were becoming a bit stuffy. Ranging from 16 to 24 years, the youngsters filled the committee room with cigarette smoke but were far more orderly than Congress. Stern Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, who presided at the hearings two years ago, put his foot down on the smoking but Senator Lee let them smoke.

Refused To Answer

Blond wavy-haired Carl Ross of New York, secretary of the Young Communist league, claiming 15,000 members, persistently refused to answer whether he would fight for the U. S. in event the Soviet should seek to establish communism in America.

"No such situation ever will arise," he insisted.

Senator Lee became peppery about it. The youngsters themselves seemed a trifle upset by Ross' attitude. Yet when Lee attempted to criticize the leaders of the Youth congress for including the Communist league, the youngsters considered it dirty play. They hissed the Oklahoma Senator so roundly that even the staid official stenographer mentioned it in his transcript.

Most of the youngsters come from less than wealthy families but svelte Vassar college sent a coed, Miss Vivian Lieberman, to speak a word from the upper brackets.

"I do not wish to intimate that we (Vassar girls) are troubled by fear that when we leave the ivied gates there will not be enough CCC camps to absorb us. Vassar girls still take their husbands from Harvard, Princeton and Yale rather than from transient camps. And our future husbands will probably not graduate out of the fraternities into the flop-houses."

She claimed an honest interest in the good of families whose children never go to college.

Murray Kempton, Johns Hopkins student, reported on a survey which he said indicated about one-third of the youth of Maryland (and presumably elsewhere) would go to war at the drop of a hat "under practically any circumstances."

Most others would await the draft.

The news cheered Senator Lee and he ended the hearing with singing, Communists and all sang "America."

Carpenter Tools are Employed to Perform Delicate Operation

Philadelphia—Physicians at Osteopathic Hospital here were forced to set aside their scientific surgical instruments recently and use instead a set of carpenter tools to perform a delicate bone grafting operation.

Mrs. Lillian Tappin, 60, suffered a broken arm in an automobile accident about a year and a half ago. The bone never set right because of injured nerves.

Drs. Edward G. Drew, Carl Frey and Robert Warden, reverted to the use of a common cold chisel, a hammer, electric saw and drill to take a piece of bone from her right leg and graft it to her useless arm.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Forgery

Crime Takes Over $200,000.000 Each Year. Club Told

Kaukauna — The methods of forgery was the topic of Howard Draper, Milwaukee, at yesterday's meeting of the Kaukauna Rotary club at Hotel Kaukauna.

"There are five main methods of forgery, by which over $200,000,000 a year is illegally gained," Draper said. "The payee's name may be forged or the amount on the face of the check raised. These two methods account for about 4 out of every 100 forgeries."

"Forty-five per cent of all forgeries are accomplished by imitating the check maker's name. One per cent are done by changing the dates and numbers on checks, and the other fifty per cent by forging the payee's endorsement on the back of the check."

Forgery is one crime that is now increasing, Draper said. The penalty is light, from one to seven years in prison, and an expert may go for some years without detection. Draper related several actual instances of the work of forgers and explained how they were invariably detected.

Forgery is becoming yearly more difficult, Draper said, because of the improved methods of protection constantly being devised. Some of these are devices to prevent alteration of the negotiable paper without leaving telltale marks, and other check protectors which stamp in the amount of the check and so perforate the amount and name that change without detection is impossible.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Land Board Will Hear City's Plea

Kaukauna Seeks Lower Interest Rate on Auditorium Bonds

Kaukauna — The request of the city of Kaukauna for a reduction in the interest rate on its civic auditorium and gymnasium bonds will come before the state land department board at a future meeting. Mayor Lewis F. Nelson announced yesterday. The mayor received a letter from Governor Philip F. LaFollette yesterday, in which the governor said that the request would be given "every proper consideration."

The request made was that the city either be allowed to pay off the $87,500 high school and gymnasium loan in full in order to refinance by means of bonds at the prevailing interest rate of 3 per cent or less, or reduce the interest on the loan.

The land department board consists of Attorney General Loomis, State Secretary Dammann, and State Treasurer Levitan, and they have promised to fix a date soon at which time a deputation of citizens, members of the common council and the mayor will appear before them to ask that the reduction in the interest rate be granted, or that the city be given permission to pay off the loan. Previous visits to this board of land commissioners by a committee of the council and the mayor have not been successful.

A petition is also being circulated among the citizens which will be presented at the next meeting of the land board.

KNOW YOUR VITAMINS!

Good Tasting Yeast Tablet Promotes Vital Nutrition

Many people are confused by claims regarding vitamins and their importance in preserving health. For your own good you should know these facts about this vital subject: Three vitamins—B, G and D—are lacking in many refined foods. Deficiency of Vitamin B may mean poor digestion, constipation, even nervous disorders. Without Vitamin G, skin, hair and nails fail to get proper nutrition. Too little Vitamin D impairs the structure of teeth and bones, increases intestinal muscle-tone and resistance to infection. Yeast is the richest known source of Vitamin B and G. The irradiation of the yeast in Ray-D Tablets adds the important Vitamin D in amount equal to 2 teaspoonfuls of ordinary cod liver oil in each tablet. Many doctors recognize Ray-D Tablets as a most economical source of these 3 vitamins... a food supplement of Vitamin B, G and D. Be sure you get RAY-D IRRADIATED YEAST TABLETS. Ask leading druggists everywhere. (Ad.)

Defensive Bidding is Important

BY ELY CULBERTSON
"Dear Mr. Culbertson: The following hand was played at a weekly duplicate game in which I participated. This was an eleven table section and we were the only East and West players who received a plus score on the hand for a top. The point that I wish to bring out is that defensive bidding seems to be some what lacking in most players who are not in the expert class."

"The bidding:

"West's spade overall was the bid that upset the North and South pair. As you can see, there was an easy four spade contract in the North and South hands.
"You will no doubt be surprised to find West, with this type of a hand, daring to put in a bid with his holding. However, the result was very satisfactory.
"I was West. Against the two no trump contract I opened my fourth best club and North and South were helpless. If I had not bid at the first opportunity I am sure the North and South pair would have reached a four spade contract (which was the bid at most of the other tables).
"Assuming that South had allowed the one spade doubled contract to stand I would have had two clubs, and then the opponent could have known that my spade bid was psychic.
I believe that defensive bidding is an important element in duplicate contract bridge, and when hands like these come up one must take some action, otherwise he might as well be a robot.
"What is your opinion?

Help Restless Child By Suggesting Things to Do

BY ANGELO PATRI
"Billy, stop that! You'll drive me crazy with that drumming."
"What are you doing with that water running like that? Stop it!"
"Now you stop that, young man. Find something else to do beside annoying the cat."
Very well. Stop signals are necessary, but what about the Go? If you say Stop, and forget to say Go there is a space where nothing is doing, and in that space the devil lives. So I've been told, and my experience says that children always find it so. When you say Stop better be ready to say Go, and say where and how.
Children who drum on the tables and pans; who turn on faucets just to watch the water run; who pull the cat's tail; hold their fingers on electric bells, are at a loss for something definite to do. They have nothing in mind. What they are doing is not holding much of their thought, if any. When you say Stop, they are without even the comfort of the gesture they have been making. Give them something to do instead of saying Stop. Say Go rather than Stop, for children are active, never still.
Don't make the Go a matter of punishment. Slip in the idea of doing something else and make it an attractive notion if you can manage to do so.
"Billy, I wonder if you could help me tie this string on this box?"
I seem to need another pair of hands." Billy is proud to help. "O Jane! Would you bring me a glass of water? I'm thirstier than a mackerel." Jane loves that. Taking the drink will give you a chance to think up something else equally as attractive for active youngsters.
Don't say Stop if the thing the child is doing is not interfering with anybody else although to you it seems a wasteful, useless idea. The thoughts of the little boy who sits idly turning over the leaves of a book, may irritate you, but he is doing no harm. He is communicating with himself and he needs to do that. The absorbed child can usually be left to himself. It is the child whose occupation indicates a vacant mind that needs the Go signal.
Keep ahead of the children in planning occupation. Be ready so that if you are called upon for plans and schemes you have some for delivery. It is not quite wise to plan every minute of a child's holiday, or free time. Wait for some hint of self-direction. If it is forthcoming one might ask, "What are you planning to do Tuesday?" "Have you anything on for Saturday?" Just be ready.
Remember that children have to have friends their own age for companionship. They may be by you sitting in a corner and just talking, talking, talking. You itch to give them something to do. Don't yield to temptation. Let them talk

Coed Declines Honor At Military Ball as Protest Against War

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Mildred Eads, a University of Wisconsin junior from Appleton, believes in translating her pacifist sentiments into action. Miss Eads was reported today as having declined a place of honor at the university military ball April 8 as a protest against war.

Because she believes that the ball, held annually by members of the student military corps at the state school, is an aid to militarism, Miss Eads refused an honor coveted by most of her classmates, membership in the ball's court of honor, it was reported in a Madison newspaper. Miss Eads' action was revealed in a letter to the newspaper.

Miss Eads is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Eads, 114 N. Union street. She attended Lawrence college before transferring to the university.

Lawrentians Preparing For First Prom Friday

WITH the beginning of spring vacation on Saturday, providing an additional reason for celebrating, the Lawrence college crowd is looking forward to its first prom tomorrow night with gay anticipation. Shortly before 9 o'clock a steady procession of formally gowned young women with long flowing dresses and evening wraps and men in tuxedos and tails will begin to make their way through a canopied walk into Alexander gymnasium, which has been transformed into a Manhattan night club for the affair.

A large zig-zag bar, at which light refreshments will be served, has been built across one end of the lobby, while a modernistic bandshell will provide a background for the orchestra. A Manhattan skyline will decorate the walls, and to complete the night club picture, there will be cigarette girls to peddle their wares to the smokers.

About 250 couples are expected to participate in the grand march, the leader of which will be chosen by a popular election Friday morning in student convocation. Instrumental in starting the movement for the prom were John Schriener, Neenah, student social chairman, Perry Peterson, Rapid River, Mich., president of the student body, and Donald MacDonald, Merrill, past president of the student body.

One of the most popular of the new young swing bands has been chosen for the dance and will play from 9 to 1 o'clock. On the following night the same orchestra will perform at the University of Illinois prom.

Three Appleton girls who served on the decorations committee for the prom were Miss Ruth Perry, Miss Mary White and Miss Mary

Musical Club Holds Guest Day

THE love story of Edvard Grieg, distinguished Norwegian composer, formed the basis of the paper Mrs. Fred Bendt read for members of the Wednesday Musical club and their guests yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. W. Murphy, 813 E. College avenue. It was the club's annual guest day program.

Mrs. Bendt took the title of her paper from one of Grieg's compositions, "Ich Liebe Dich," and told how the composer had sent a long series of musical love letters to Nina during the years when he was studying and had no money. Their success came. They were married and began a concert tour of Europe. Mrs. Grieg singing the songs her husband had written. They were much loved all over Europe and at one time appeared before Queen Victoria at Windsor castle.

The story as Mrs. Bendt wrote it was told in retrospect. She began with Mrs. Grieg as a tiny white-haired old lady, sitting primly at a piano and softly singing "Ich Liebe Dich" for an admiring audience of friends gathered to honor her on her ninetieth birthday anniversary. Her husband had died several years before, in 1907.

Compositions by Grieg figured prominently in the musical program which was presented after Mrs. Bendt's story.

The program follows:

Jeh Liebe Dich Grieg
Solvejg's Song Grieg
Mrs. Herbert L. Davis Grieg
Morning Mood Grieg
Anitra's Dance Grieg
Kammennel-Ostrow Rubinstein
Mrs. Clarence Richter
In the Boat Grieg
Twos on a Lovely Eve in June Grieg
Good Morning Grieg
Mrs. Carl Waterman
Adagio and Rondo from Sonata Beethoven
Pathetique
Mrs. Mildred Boettcher
Andante from Haydn's Sixth
Ensemble—Mrs. Edward Mumm.
Mrs. Ralph Raschig, Mrs. Emil
Voocky and Mrs. W. Klofisch
Mrs. Richter and Miss Winifred
Bright were accompanists for the program. A social committee composed of Mrs. Ralph McGowan, Mrs. John M. Balliet, Mrs. Lucy Horton and Mrs. S. W. Murphy served tea. Mrs. Boettcher, president of the club, and Mrs. Horton poured.

Fr. Scanlan Explains Stand of Church on Wage, Profit Problems

"The Catholic church recognizes the wage system as in itself just, although injustice may arise in the working of the system," the Rev. Lambert Scanlan, assistant pastor of St. Mary church quoted from the study book, "Modern Problems" by the Rev. Rudolph Bandas, at the meeting of St. Mary study club Wednesday night at Columbia hall. Popes Leo XIII and Pius XI both insist that all workers are entitled to a living wage, he continued, namely, a wage that will enable a thrifty workman not merely to live, but to live in reasonable comfort and to support himself and an average family in Christian decency.

In addition to paying a just wage, Father Scanlan went on to say, the employer is bound to provide proper working conditions, namely sufficient rest, decent hours and sanitary conditions. The church also advocates the modification of the wage system by some measure of profit-sharing, he said, but she does not say how this cooperation or co-partnership is to be carried out in practice. The popes condemn the claims of capital to all profits as unjust; they condemn as equally false the claim that all products and profits are created by and belong to labor, he added.

The next meeting of the study club will be April 6 when the topic for discussion will be "Labor Unions: The Strike."

Catholic home. Plans were discussed for installation of officers on April 13.

Appleton council of the United Commercial Travelers will hold a Roy Ackley booster meeting Saturday afternoon and evening at Odd Fellows hall. Mr. Ackley, in whose honor the meeting has been named, will be the principal speaker at the dinner. He is grand counselor of the organization and resides at Chippewa Falls. Cards and dancing will follow the dinner.

Want to Know Why You're Constipated?

Would you give a million to shake off that dull, dopey, played-out feeling that often comes with common constipation? Then stop a minute and think.

What have you had to eat this week? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? Probably the reason you're constipated is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft, bulky mass in the intestines which helps a bowel movement.

What to do? Eat some Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. This crunchy cereal is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains both the intestinal tonic vitamin B₁ and iron.

Eat All-Bran every day and drink plenty of water. See if you don't get off your heels and on your toes! Kellogg's All-Bran is sold by every grocer.

Referendum on 18 Supervisors On April Ballot

Appleton Will Vote on Proposed Increase in Representation

A referendum on the plan to re-district Appleton into 18 wards to secure more adequate representation on the Outagamie county board will be held in the general city elections April 5.

The committee in charge of the movement will meet this afternoon to discuss plans for informing the voters relative to the plan.

Petitions, carrying over 1,850 signatures, were filed with the city council Feb. 16 and requested the council to submit the question of re-districting the city to the voters. Aldermen unanimously ordered the referendum.

The question to be submitted to voters follows: "Shall the charter ordinance, providing for the repeal of sub-section (3) of section 62.08 and for the amendment of section 62.08 and 62.09 of the revised statutes of Wisconsin, in so far as the same applies to the city of Appleton, Outagamie county, Wisconsin, thereby re-districting the city of Appleton into 18 wards and providing for one alderman and one supervisor from each of such wards, be adopted?"

A "yes" vote will mean the voter favors the adoption of the charter ordinance, which would provide for more representation on the county board. A vote of "no" will mean the voter does not favor re-districting Appleton into 18 wards.

Could Send 25

Appleton is entitled by law to one supervisor for each 1,000 population and on that basis might send 25 supervisors to the county board. However, it is believed that 18 wards, with the same number of supervisors would best serve the city.

If the proposed plan is approved by voters, each of the 18 wards of the city will be represented by one alderman. The present six wards are represented by two aldermen each, making a total of 12 councilmen. It is proposed to elect aldermen from even numbered wards in even numbered years and aldermen from uneven numbered wards in uneven numbered years. This would result in the election of nine aldermen each year.

About 18 months ago, an effort was made to have the state legislature enact a law which would make it possible for cities to elect supervisors from supervisory districts instead of from wards, but the bill died in the legislature, due largely to opposition from the Wisconsin Association of County Boards. If this law had been enacted, it would have been possible to increase the number of supervisors without disturbing the ward lines or changing the size of the city council.

HOMES ISOLATED IN SHALLOW FLOOD WATER LAKES

Many backyards at New London and Shiocton were transformed into shallow lakes as waters of the Wolf river swelled from thaws and rains overflowed the river banks. The flood waters were reported to have reached the peak yesterday and started to recede. The picture at the top shows the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kalwitz, 236 Shawano street, New London, which stands as a tiny island. The lower picture was taken from the backyard of Shiocton business places. An additional rise of 18 inches in the river would have flooded the first floor of the house shown in the center of the picture. (Post-Crescent Photo)

3 Motorists Fined for Breaking Parking Law

Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court this morning fined three motorists each $1 and costs when they pleaded guilty of parking violations. James Van Rooy, 21, 1108 W. Winnebago street, and John H. Kippenhan, 36, 221 E. Winnebago street, pleaded guilty of overtime parking. Albert Wingard, 25, Olympic building, admitted parking in front of a drive way. The arrests were made by city police yesterday.

Twin sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Troyer, 825 N. Drew street, yesterday at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Rose Bampton, Who Sings at Chapel Tonight, 'Youngster' in Grand Opera

Not because she is alone in years but because she is so young to achieve operatic fame is Rose Bampton reluctant to admit her age.

She said "skip it" in answer to a reporter's query this morning during an interview at the Conway hotel. "I'm trying to get away from this 'child of the opera' business," she said amiably. "And for that reason, I'd rather that you didn't publish my age."

She's very young, that's a cinch, and very good looking. Her height gives her a stately appearance and she has a sincere smile and a pleasant speaking voice.

The famous soprano, who will sing tonight in Memorial chapel, has been in Wisconsin before but this is her first visit to Appleton. The Indian flavor of city names in the state interest her, like Manitowish and Kaukauna.

She's made frequent appearances in college towns. Once, when she was scheduled to sing at Williams college in Massachusetts, a men's school, the students sent in their requests.

"It was one of the heaviest programs I've ever been asked to sing," she said. "They wanted to hear the best in opera music."

At Winnipeg, Monday

Miss Bampton sang Monday night at Winnipeg, Canada, where she was disappointed "because there was so little snow."

"We've had an unusually mild winter in New York and when I was on my way to Canada I was looking forward to seeing a lot of it. But there was very little there and even less here."

Leaving Winnipeg, she planned to stay in Minneapolis for a night. When she reached the city and alighted from the train, there was an appalling scarcity of taxis.

"It's a taxi drivers strike," someone informed her. So she got back on the train and went on to St. Paul where the taxis were still running.

New York is a fast-moving, exciting city, she says, and she likes it. But she's relieved to be able to travel elsewhere now and then. "I actually get more rest on a tour

Harold Best Trial In Jury's Hands as Lawyer Ends Pleas

Boy Weeps as Attorney Says Slaying Placed 'On Innocent Head'

Prairie du Chien, Wis. — (P)—The case of Harold Best, 15, charged with delinquency after the slaying of his 11 year old sister, Mildred, was placed in the hands of a jury of three women and nine men at 10:36 a. m., today.

The boy burst into tears as his lawyer, Carl Hill, concluded his final argument with a plea that he be freed after that the slaying had been placed "on an innocent head."

Hill declared the shooting of Mildred as she lay in her bed last June 4 "is still unsolved," charged the state was "stacking the cards" against Harold, and asserted "we have an unsolved crime here because death closed the mouth of Orla Shaw," the children's uncle, with whom they lived on a farm near Soldiers Grove.

Hill asserted Shaw became desperately ill when questioned about the slaying by Sheriff Oliver White last June 7. The attorney declared Shaw's whereabouts for 30 to 35 minutes the night of the shooting were unaccountable, and emphasized testimony of state Toxicologist Frank Kozelka that Shaw's death, 11 days after the shooting, was caused by poison.

Denies Poisoning Issue

District Attorney James Cullen, in a brief rebuttal argument, said, "the poisoning of Orla Shaw is aside from the case," and declared the evidence accounted for all Shaw's activities the night of the shooting.

Circuit Judge S. E. Smalley instructed the jury that the boy must be cleared of the delinquency charge unless the state had proved beyond reasonable doubt that the youth killed his sister. A juvenile may not be charged with a crime under Wisconsin law.

Except for his brief outburst, Harold sat nonchalantly through the proceedings. His mother, Mrs. Best, sat in the front row, looking nervously in her chair as the case went to the jury. Mrs. Shaw showed no emotion, even at mention of her husband's death.

District Attorney Cullen in his opening argument asserted the defense had sought to raise a "smoke screen" by testimony of Dr. William F. Lorenz, state psychiatrist, that Harold in a truth serum test said he confessed the slaying to protect his uncle, the late Orla Shaw.

Evidence of Poisoning

Defense Attorney D. V. Beckwith replied that evidence Shaw died of poisoning 11 days after the slaying created more than a "reasonable doubt" of guilt on the boys' part.

Dr. Lorenz, testifying yesterday after Harold asserted his innocence from the stand, quoted the boy as saying he didn't know why he suspected his uncle but that he "acted funny a couple of times, at Mildred's funeral for once."

Dr. Lorenz said it was his opinion "Harold is not guilty of killing his sister." Under cross examination by District Attorney James P. Cullen, he admitted scientific tests were not claimed to be infallible.

Fair Weather Is Due; High Water Closes Sawmill

Hatten Company at New London Forced to Suspend Operations

Damp, cold weather in Appleton and vicinity today will give way to blue skies and milder temperatures tomorrow, the Milwaukee weather bureau reported.

Meanwhile, high water continued to plague communities in this area. At New London, the Wolf river apparently reached its peak yesterday as the official scale hovered around 9.8 feet. The water was 8.2 feet above normal. The Hatten Lumber Company sawmill was forced to suspend operations last night because of the high water and will remain shut down until it recedes.

Roads and highways in Outagamie county closed yesterday were still shut today. Highway department officials said traffic would not be resumed on the flooded highways until the water has run off.

For the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, the highest mark in the city was 47 and the lowest, 29, according to charts at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company plant. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer atop the Post-Crescent building registered 43 degrees.

Pittsburgh, with 80 degrees and Aloha, with 26, were the warmest and coldest places respectively in the nation yesterday.

Insurgent Forces Use Smoke Screen To Cloak Advance

Move Toward Mediterranean Into Rich Catalan Sector

Madrid — (P)—The Spanish insurgent army, for the first time with smoke screens to cloak its advance, struck out today for the Mediterranean on a new course into rich and hitherto untouched Catalonia.

Shifting their attacks north of the Ebro river, after a two-week campaign on the south bank, the insurgents fixed Lerida as their first important objective.

Lerida is a key city for any drive to carry the insurgents, moving north and east from the Ebro, into the northeastern corner of Spain.

(The insurgents already have conquered northern and western Spain. Northeastern Catalonia, a central portion south of Madrid, and the southeastern sector about Valencia remain in government hands.)

Using the tactics by which they came to the south bank of the river, the insurgents are driving first at Lerida communications with columns of mechanized troops and an aviation force.

Two Towns Surrender

The smoke screen first made its appearance yesterday, and to it the government credited defeat of its forces and the surrender of two towns south of Huesca.

The surrender of these towns brought one insurgent column well along in a drive to dominate the Huesca-Zaragoza highway. There are three insurgent columns operating north of the river while two more await a signal to strike from advanced positions on the south flank.

These are located at Caspe and Sagasta, from which good highways lead across rolling country to Lerida. The whole area which the insurgents now have entered is fairly level all the way into Lerida, second city in importance only to Barcelona in autonomous Catalonia.

The new area under attack, however, is much larger than that just subjugated on the lower bank of the river, and the insurgents have the surprise element no longer in their behalf, inasmuch as the government has been busy reinforcing all its defenses on this eastern front.

trial will be in Hollandtown cemetery.

Building Trades Council Will Not Picket Home Show

Action Would "Harm Friendly Contractors", Debenack Says Today

The Appleton Building Trades council will not picket the Better Housing and Home Show which opened this afternoon in Armory G. Charles Debenack, president of the council, said this morning.

The executive committee of the council in a special meeting last night at the Appleton Trades and Labor hall voted against such action.

"We feel that if we picket the home show, we would be harming contractors in the city who are friendly to organized labor and who have displays in the armory," Debenack said. "Therefore we have voted not to take such action."

The Building Trades council in deciding not to picket the show rescinded a resolution made at a meeting earlier this month. The council then voted to picket the home show, claiming that work being done by Herman Hoepfner, contractor, on Castle hall is non-union and that Hoepfner is unfair to organized labor.

Castle hall is owned by the Knights of Pythias lodge, which is sponsoring the home show. The Appleton chapter of the Wisconsin Contractors in a newspaper advertisement printed yesterday disapproved of the "arbitrary tactics" of the Building Trades council. The council, in a letter to Hoepfner, had announced its intention of picketing the show.

"Selfish Few" are Found at Capital, Lawrence States

President's Talk Sign Leadership May Not be Expected From White House

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—President Roosevelt has added to his picturesque political vocabulary a new set of public enemies—the "selfish few." But, unhappily, the president did not define what he meant. Outside of an inference that the business men of the south and the Democratic senators and representatives who have been blocking his bill for the political control of wage rates are believers in feudalism or fascism, the reader is left to imagine that America would have prospered today except for a "selfish few."

Lawrence

The exact statement by the president is worth quoting because it is important that the American people begin to appraise the articulated wisdom of a chief executive who is trying to establish an alibi for bad times and trying hard to avert responsibility for what is now becoming known historically as the "Roosevelt recession."

"Today," says the president, "national progress and national prosperity are being held back chiefly because of selfishness on the part of a few."

This is a simple way to dispose of the present unemployment problem and heavy losses being suffered by business and industry. It is always easy to blame somebody else in politics, especially when the assumption is that the people, to use a Harry Hopkins phrase, are "too damn dumb" to understand the truth.

Leadership Gone

When Mr. Roosevelt makes a public address in the midst of a period of bad times and says it's all due to a "selfish few," it is a sign that leadership can no longer be expected from the White House and that no remedy except invective and vague generality may be looked for from the chief executive. It is a signal to the country to demand that congress recover the vast powers it has delegated to the executive and begin pulling the nation out of the throes of depression.

Who are the "selfish few?" Presumably, the opposite of "selfish many." And who are they? Here in Washington are many public officials who are very unselfish with other people's money. Mr. Roosevelt has, by one means or another, spent in excess of $25,000,000 since he has been president. The public debt was $19,000,000,000 on March 4, 1933, when he took office, and it is around $38,000,000,000 today.

Perhaps one definition of a selfish person is one who does not like to give away money he has actually earned, or that he has toiled for by the sweat of his brow. This characteristic is not confined to a few. It is rather widespread, and yet, when it comes to making contributions for charity and philanthropy, generally the class who have actually earned money always give a substantial share of their savings.

Inherited Wealth

Mr. Roosevelt never earned any substantial sums himself, having inherited his wealth, so he cannot be awarded the distinction of being one of the "selfish few," though lately his desire to sell public papers and documents that are not his private property would seem to indicate that he has some instincts in that general direction.

The president does belong to the class of "unselfish" persons or "liberals" who give away and spend other people's money. Therefore, the more accurate description of the present business recession would be to say that national progress and national prosperity are being blocked by the selfish politicians who demand that their own political fortunes and political power shall be maintained at the expense of the taxpayers.

There was nothing very unselfish, it will be recalled, about the way the last national election was won by AAA and WPA funds. There is nothing very unselfish today about the stubborn refusal of the administration to repeal the undisturbed surplus tax—the one that penalizes thrift and causes unemployment by stagnating capital funds and business generally.

Mistaken Policies

If "selfishness" is to be made concrete, it will be found to be the biggest single attribute of a political administration which refuses to acknowledge that it ever might have made a mistake and which insists on clinging to mistaken policies even after public opinion has in various ways shown its condemnation of them.

Pride is relatively unimportant when the ordinary individual allows it to supersede common sense but pride and pique and prejudice in high office can be detrimental to the public interests especially if as a consequence unwise laws are kept on the statute books in spite of public clamor for their repeal.

Between elections, presidents get the notion sometimes that they are masters of public opinion. The present administration, which has spent public money to maintain a gigantic propaganda machine and which would really like to do away with the press because it dares to criticize its misdeeds, believes it can control every election by blaming small groups of successful or thrifty citizens, and by arraying class against class. These tactics have been noticeable in the pre-fascist periods abroad.

Synonym For Fascism

Mr. Roosevelt now links "feudalism" and "fascism" as the same thing but a more realistic synonym for fascism is new dealism which is nothing more or less than the desire of the "selfish few" in political life to use public funds at will for political purposes and to concentrate all governmental power in the hands of a "selfish few." The American people are being asked, through higher and higher taxes and through bigger and bigger relief rolls, to pay for the follies of the "selfish few." It's a phrase which Mr. Roosevelt may not have

Heaviest Eaters May Win Tug of War Title at 'Y'

The tug of war which will be held during the Inter-Club Olympics Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. may be decided on which service club eats the most at the dinner in the cafeteria.

In any tug of war, weight is an important factor. The schedule at the Inter-Club Olympics has been arranged so that the rope pulling championships will start soon after members of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange, and Lions clubs and Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce have finished their meal.

A rumor that the clubs have ordered members to suspend breakfast and noon lunch tomorrow so they can pile it in at the dinner tomorrow night was circulating in the city today. If a man is hungry and sets out to stuff himself, he can add two pounds to his weight, seasoned observers said. Under those conditions, a 6-man tug of war team could add 12 pounds, a marked advantage. Unless, of course, the men get too enthusiastic and are unable to compete because of indigestion.

The tug of war will find the Kiwanis facing the jacks and the Lions pulling against the Exchange in the preliminary jousts. The winners will haul away for the title, the losers for third place. The event starts at 7:30 tomorrow night. The list of events tomorrow afternoon and evening follows:

At 5:15 in the afternoon, billiards, ping pong, shuffle board, dart, baseball, handball singles, bunyon derby; at 5:45, pool; 6:30 in the evening, dinner; 7:30, tug of war, contract bridge, bowling, handball doubles, and relay race.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE AP Science Editor

Buffalo — Dioscorides, a young Greek physician, of the first century, A. D. discovered that the seeds of meadow saffron were good for gout.

Now, after 19 centuries, scientists are learning a lot of other things about that old gout remedy, whose medical name is colchicine. It appears to do what is not expected, when least expected. Thus, colchicine leaped into fame last November with the discovery that, when sprinkled on plants, it would produce new and sturdier species. Whether it will do this with man's most useful agricultural plants, and whether it will make mules fertile, remains to be seen. But meanwhile the surprising drug has displayed another contradiction.

The new-species discovery grew out of the fact that biologists had found colchicine useful for slowing down cell division in plants. This was useful for scientists who want to study exactly how a cell divides. In nature, the division is too fast for good inspection.

Oscar W. Richards, of Buffalo, tried colchicine for slowing down division of yeast cells. The stuff upset all precedents. It speeded up the division. Mr. Richards reports to the American Association for the Advancement of Science that he has found a reason. To most plant cells the gout remedy is a sedative drug. To yeast cells it is food.

Jamboree Scouts are Invited to Meeting

Valley council boy scouts who attended the national jamboree at Washington, D. C., last summer, and their parents, have been invited to attend the annual valley council meeting Thursday night, March 31, in the new Menasha High school gymnasium. About 20 scouts are expected to accept the invitation.

C. J. Carlson, Chicago scout executive of Region 7 including Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin, will be principal speaker at the meeting. Mowry Smith, Neenah, president of the valley council, will preside. Waldo Friedland of Menasha is general chairman.

WPA Plans Contest in Bird House Building

Outagamie county youths are being invited by Hubert J. Piette, county WPA recreation supervisor, to enter the annual WPA bird house building contest now being started. Winning bird houses in the county will be selected and will be judged by representatives of the state conservation department with winning bird houses from other counties in the state. Judging in the county will take place in about a month, Piette said.

Rogers Hornsby Will Play With Minneapolis

Hot Springs — Roger Hornsby, former major league manager and the greatest right handed batsman of all time, has signed a contract to serve the Minneapolis Millers this summer as coach, utility infielder and pinch hitter. He left immediately for Daytona Beach, Fla., where Mike Kelley's trouper are in training.

Hornsby has been working out here for a month with the Ray Dean baseball school and the Milwaukee Brewers, and can still hit with the best of them, but he isn't moving around very fast in infield workouts and will be of questionable value to the Millers on that account.

Jacobs at Detroit to Inspect Site for Bout

Detroit (AP) — Mike Jacobs, New York promoter of the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling fight for the heavyweight championship, arrived in Detroit last night to look over the city's facilities for the big bout without committing himself to the ultimate site.

Asked flatly whether Detroit was being seriously considered for the bout, Jacobs said: "What do you think I came here for—just to visit the city? I'd never like a storm like this one in a plane, if I wasn't figuring on Detroit."

Jacobs came here from Chicago, which is under consideration along with New York and Philadelphia as a site for the June fight.

Boston Bruins Begin
Hockey Title Quest

New York (AP) — The bruising Boston Bruins, seeking their first National Hockey League title, and Stanley cup since 1929, invade Toronto tonight for the opening battle of a best-of-five series with the high-scoring Maple Leafs. To the winner goes the N. H. L. championship as well as a place in the final round for the cup.

The Bruins, on their fine record in the regular season and their nice balance between defense and offense, are favorites to come through this opening engagement, and, eventually, to professional hockey's world title.

But in the eyes of at least one competent observer, there isn't over-much to choose between the rivals. That observer is Lester Patrick, whose own New York Rangers attempt to square their best-of-three second-place series with the New York Americans tonight at Madison Square Garden. Tonight's third game finds the Montreal Canadiens out to make it two straight over the Blackhawks at Chicago.

Chicago (AP) — Only a dozen pins kept the Calvert Distillery team of San Francisco out of first place in the American Bowling congress standings today.

The failure of the western team to score 12 more points last night deprived it of a tie for first with the Mystery Men five of St. Louis but it didn't dampen the admiration of bowling addicts for a courageous finish.

The Calverts rolled a 3,023 total the hard way, starting poorly and finishing with a bludge of power. The first game total was 970, and they dropped to 951 in their second game, but splintered 1102 pins in the final effort.

The standings:

Parker and Bride 20 Years
His Senior are 'Very Happy'

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — The love story of a young American tennis ace and a bride 20 years his senior unfolded in a honeymoon cottage today.

The youth is Frankie Parker, born Franciszek A. Pajowski, one-time Milwaukee ball boy and at 22 the Nation's No. 3 tennis player.

The woman is Audrey Browne Beasley Parker, mother of two children. Parker married her three days after she divorced Mercer Beasley, his tennis coach and benefactor.

"They exchanged warm glances and Parker spoke: 'Our marriage is quite the opposite of disloyalty and ingratitude. As soon as we were sure of our love we told Mercer.'

Amicable Arrangement
"It was last February—in Bermuda I had been fond of Audrey and she of me for three years before that."

"How did he take it? Well, Mercer is a sportsman. I guess the whole world knows that now. He said: 'I've learned in tennis that it isn't how you win—it's how you lose that counts.'

"It was all arranged on the very best terms. Mercer will always be our very best friend."

The Beasleys were married 23 years ago—before Parker was born. A daughter, Katherine, is a year younger than Parker, and a son, James, 14, is in his father's custody.

"We will live in this furnished cottage until June, when we leave on our summer's tennis campaign," Parker said.

"We are very happy, and because our tastes are so alike in work and play, we are sure we shall always be so."

YANKEES DOWN BEES
Brandon, Fla., Mar. 23 (AP) — The New York Yankees took advantage of wildness on the part of opposition pitchers Wednesday to breeze in with a 6 to 2 exhibition victory over the Boston Bees.

While Atley Donald and Joe Vance baffled the Bees all the way, the Yanks broke up the pitching battle by scoring two runs in each of the last three innings when Bill Weir and Dick Erickson lost their control.

Through the first five innings, Johnny Niggeling blanked the Yanks with four hits. George Selkirk with a double and a single was the batting hero.

MACKS DOWN GIANTS
Baton Rouge, La., Mar. 23 (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics fired their totally unexpected big guns at the New York Giants for the second straight day yesterday and clubbed out a 19 to 9 exhibition win.

They started out with 10 runs in the first inning at the expense of Young Tom Baker by coupling five walks and six hits, among them Bob Johnson's triple with the bases loaded. Dick Coffman was touched for five more tallies in the fourth and after that it didn't matter.

Buck Ross, coasting along on the lop-sided lead, gave up 15 hits in going the route for the A's. Philadelphia (A) 010 503 000—19 15 0

HUMPHRIES HIT HARD
Lafayette, La., Mar. 23 (AP) — Jersey City shaded the Cleveland Indians 9 to 8 in a wild game yesterday.

The Tribe held a four-run lead when Jersey City scored seven runs in a fat eighth inning off Johnny Humphries, on four passes, four hits and an error.

In the ninth, Earl Averill produced a home run to win the game. Turn to Page 18

In Women's Golf Meet

Southern Pines, N. C. (AP) — Youthful Patty Berg was the player to overcome today in the final 18-hole round of the women's mid-south golf tournament.

The Minneapolis red-head, winner of many of the Florida tournaments, had an eight-stroke lead over Jane Cochran of West Palm Beach, Fla., after the first two rounds. Her consistency over the difficult 6,300 yard layout seemed certain to bring her ahead of her southern opponent.

Mrs. Berg added a 76 yesterday to her 75 of Tuesday for a 36-hole total of 151.

Miss Cochran carded a 79 yesterday to go with her previous 80. Her second place total of 159 was nine strokes better than the 168 posted for third place by Mrs. Estelle Lawson Pace of Chapel Hill.

In the doubles and singles at the Hendy alleys, following the key line Monday there will be a lull in activities until Friday April 2. The invasion will start anew then and will be continued straight through every night to the end of the tournament, May 7.

Quotes Jones at 25 to 1 In Masters' Tournament

BY EDDIE BRIEZZ

PHILADELPHIA, N. C. (AP)—Jack Doyle, the betting commissioner, who lost a fortune betting against Bobby Jones when Bobby was in his heyday, is quoting the Atlanta at 25 to 1 for the approaching Masters' tournament. Doyle, an Atlanta and betting even money, he doesn't think higher than 25 to 1. Doyle, who is a former professional golfer, is taking in the North and South and shooting a pretty fair game of his own. Doyle, who is a former professional golfer, is taking in the North and South and shooting a pretty fair game of his own. Doyle, who is a former professional golfer, is taking in the North and South and shooting a pretty fair game of his own.

Bobby Jones

Interviewed on the eve of the North and South Tuesday night, Sam Snead said, "Oh, I'm not a bit nervous. This is just another golf tournament for me." But those who dined with him noticed that he used two forks (and no knife) throughout a pretty healthy meal. No, the guy probably wasn't nervous at all. One of the hottest golfers here in Sammy Byrd, the reformed baseball player. You should see him pole out those long shots. Maybe Ray Wolf doesn't know it but North Carolina U. is going to reward him with a new contract calling for at least a $2,000 raise. Biggest golfer on the course here is Herman Hickman, assistant football coach at Lake Forest and former Tennessee star. Bobby Jones says the second shot, Sammy Snead made on the first hole here today was one of the finest he ever saw. "There is praise indeed and Mr. Snead can step right up and take a great big bow for himself."

"Experts" Venturing Statement That Cubs Will Capture Pennant

LOS ANGELES—The Chicago Cubs, to all appearances, have taken a jigger of the old bromide commonly labeled "the fighting spirit" and seem ready to do or die for the home town, P. K. Wrigley and a fat bonus at the end of the 1938 baseball war.

Grimm

The club reached the mainland from its training camp at Catalina island in condition far ahead of schedule, and has proceeded to chew all opposition to bits. Cubs look so good that many experts already have selected limbs to crawl out on to pick them for the top spot in the National league.

Casualties, which wrecked Cub pennant hopes last year, have appeared, but nothing serious. Twisted Ankle
Rangy Tex Carleton twisted an ankle the first day on the island, and for two weeks it looked like the knob on one of Harry Lauder's canes.

But old Tex stepped out to the mound here without benefit of even an intra-club game and pitched the Cubs' first major league submission for four innings, allowed only one hit and fanned three. Bill Lee, the big, burly one from Louisiana, shapes up as one of the Cubs' best pitching bets. High hopes are pinned on Young Clay Bryant, who was used mainly for relief last year.

Larry French, the California scowpaw, should have another good season, and measures have been taken to correct LeRoy Parmelee's wildness.

Hitting Well
Charlie Drake, one of the Cub assistants to the assistant manager, said motion pictures disclosed that Parmelee had developed a little jerk in his wrist, and worse than that was forgetting to look at the plate just before letting go.

The Cubs have been hitting exceptionally well—even Billy Jurges, Augie Galan, minus a pair of tonsils that helped spoil his 1937 season; Joe Mauer, who may emerge as one of the best outfielders in the circuit, and Jim Demaree form one of the hardest slugging threesomes in the league.

Phil Cavaretta at first, with Ripper Collins ready to step in if he falters; Billy Herman at second, Jurges at short and Stanley Hack at third offer a crack fielding combination, plus hitting ability. That leaves some of the rookie talent out in the cold, but the cold is none too good when they buck up against an outfit like this.

Charlie Grimm believes he has a great ball club. He may be right.

Training Camp Briefs

Baton Rouge, La.—Johnny McCarthy, first baseman at first base for the New York Giants, is the Giants' leading hitter. He has hit safely in every exhibition game and added "three for five" against the Athletics yesterday to boost his average to well above the .500 mark.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Atley Donald, the ex-Newark Braves pitcher who is trying for a place on the New York Yankees' staff, strengthened his bid considerably yesterday against the Boston Bees. Donald yielded five hits in six innings but only one run.

Lakeland, Fla.—Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons thinks Bill Terry made a mistake when he traded him to the Brooklyn Dodgers. The knuckleball master claims his arm is looser than it has been in five years and that he will be able to convince Bill of his mistake when he takes the mound against the Giants in the regular season.

San Antonio, Texas—The St. Louis Browns weathered a ribbing from Texas league fans yesterday when the fans heard a rumor the Browns had gone "on a perfume buying expedition" at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. The fans rode the team throughout the game with San Antonio but it didn't "phase" the Browns. They beat the Missions, 4 to 0.

San Francisco—Coach Johnny Gooch of the Pittsburgh Pirates is predicting young Bobby Klinger will become a regular hurler for the Buccas. "He's got every essential," says Gooch of the right-hander who won 19 and lost 13 for Sacramento last year.

New Orleans—Delighted at the timely hitting of his "boy," Connie Mack brought his Philadelphia Athletics here today to meet the Cleveland Indians. The A's knocked off the Giants twice in convincing fashion, with Bob Johnson doing some great slugging.

Sarasota, Fla.—Young Leo Nonnenkamp stands out in a Boston Red Sox camp made pessimistic by two straight defeats. He smashed a home run over the 350-foot right field wall at Sebring yesterday. Lou Gehrig of the Yanks is the only other player on record to hit one over the barricade.

Landis Plucks 100 Players From Under Cards' Wing

Await Rickey's Reaction to Decision on St. Louis
Farm System

BY GAYLE TALBOT
ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. (AP)—The Citrus circuit wondered today whether Branch Rickey, the "David Harum" of baseball and addict of "gentlemen's agreements," was going to take lying down the whacking around he and the St. Louis Cardinals got from Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis yesterday. Up to a late hour last night Rickey still was studying the judge's lengthy tome and declining to make a statement of any kind. He would not even enter a plea of "not guilty" because of getting caught, but there was a feeling that he would have something to say today about all those lovely young players the czar turned loose and the fines he imposed. The judge, if you were not listening when he emerged from his hibernation at nearby Belleair yesterday, made his case out of practically all the players on six mid-west clubs, including Cedar Rapids of the Three-Eye league, because he said the Cardinals had been consorting clandestinely with Cedar Rapids for the last two seasons.

Aimed at Rickey
Rickey, as head of the Cards' farm system, was the principal target. It has been fairly common knowledge for a long time that Landis wanted to "catch" the St. Louis slicker, and the surprise was that he didn't crack down harder when he got the evidence. The judge said, though, that he desired to take only the "remedial and preventive action" required to end the situation.

As a matter of fact, all the Cards lose are their string on about 100 young players, most of them of Class D calibre. Only one is being given a tryout by the Cards here this spring. He is Jimmy Webb, a shortstop who was at Cedar Rapids in 1936.

The Cards, of course, will have to pay $2,176 in fines imposed on three of their clubs, but that is not enough to bother Rickey. More sympathy was felt for the 17 members of the Monett club of the Arkansas-Missouri league who must find new jobs at this late date. Those declared free agents on the other teams will be permitted to sign back for 1938 if they don't receive better offers.

There was some conjecture whether the big league clubs would have the look-out for promising material for their farm teams would go after the cream of those turned loose by Landis. They might not regard it as cricket to take advantage of Rickey's slip-up, and so leave the lads no alternative but to sign right back into the chain gang.

Some regarded the decision as the most important and far reaching delivered by Judge Landis in his many years of baseball's highest bench. They saw in it a death blow to "gentlemen's agreements" between major and minor league clubs, and predicted that those who have been skirting the law would sign the pledge.

No Hero Listed On Next Mat Card

Only Villains Will Show at Menasha Armory Next
Wednesday

Menasha—There'll be no hero in the window bout of the mat show at S. A. Cook armory next Wednesday evening for Joe Dorsetti, Detroit, and Speedy Franks, Texas, will meet for two out of three falls in an hour time limit. Both have been deep-deyed villains in previous performances here and the fans probably will be pleased to see each of them commit mayhem on the other. Dorsetti, fascist salute and all, is billed as the "Italian rebel" while Speedy is the "Texas Wildcat."

Dickie Gerber, South Bend, Ind., will return to meet a newcomer to the spectators at the armory. Gerber's opponent will be Kid Speers, Memphis, Tenn. They will meet in two out of three falls in an hour time limit.

The third bout on the card is another resulting from the challenges and counterchallenges at the last exhibition. Clarence Rhyner, acting as referee, got mixed up with Johnny Principi and challenged the latter. Principi accepted and that provides the 30 minute one fall opener.

As an added attraction William Erickson, promoter, has arranged to have Ralph Becker and his $1,000 piano accordion back and the Hoosier Hot Shots also will perform between falls.

Browns Sell Catcher
To Washington Senators
San Antonio, Tex.—A straight-cash sale to the senators of Catcher Angelo Giuliani, who once attended Catholic University in Washington, was announced today by William O. DeWitt, vice-president of the St. Louis Browns.

Giuliani, drafted from St. Paul of the American association, was the Browns' second-string receiver in 1936. He was optioned to Dallas of the Texas league last year and recalled near the end of the season. He is 25 years old.

Madison—Fred Keltan, Green Bay, and John Sylvester, Madison, were awarded Major "W's" in fencing at the University of Wisconsin for the season just closed. Minor "W's" were earned by Warren Alberts, Waukesha; Rodney Nowakowski, Manitowish; and Edward Batterman, Milwaukee.

County Baseballers To Adopt Schedule

Adoption of a schedule and a ball will feature the meeting of the Outagamie County Baseball league called for 8 o'clock Monday evening at Hortonville. It was announced today by Hilbert J. Weller, president. The circuit elected officers 10 days ago and indicated it would show with the same six clubs which made last year's race. They are Dale, Shiocton, Hortonville, Black Creek, Greenville Merchants and Greenville Grange.

Trailing 4 to 0 in the sixth, the Tigers put over three runs on two doubles and two singles. They tied the game in the ninth on Rookie Cristman's hit and then scored five more runs in the tenth.

Detroit was unable to score on Weaver, who pitched the first five innings, but snatched Rookies Pheasant and Kolman away at will. Schoolboy Rowe, opening the game for the Tigers was tagged for one run.

CUYLER GETS TWO HOMERS
Clearwater, Fla.—The Brooklyn Dodgers, paced by Kiki Cuyler, a pair of home runs, barely outlasted the Cincinnati Reds yesterday to win a loose 14 to 13 grapefruit league victory.

Cuyler clouted his first homer with a man aboard in the first inning, and his second in the second frame with the bags empty. The Dodgers clubbed a pair of homers in the first and second frames on Rookies Harkader and O'Flynn for seven more in the seventh.

The Reds almost came through with a six run splurge off Max Butcher in the ninth, but were stopped one run short of tying. GRAPHIC GOLF

BY BEST BALL

GOOD WRIST ACTION ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT FUNDAMENTALS OF GOLF SWING

WRIST ACTION AIDS POWER
By far too many golfers overlook the driving force which lies in their wrists and hands and concentrate on their arms and shoulders. There is tremendous power stored in the back and midsection of the body which is capable of being utilized with the proper body turn mechanics. However, even this force, if combined only with a stiff arm movement, is not capable of driving the ball an appreciable distance. The wrists have the capacity to suddenly unleash their latent power so that the stroke is speeded up at the right moment, to travel through the ball with great velocity and send it far down the fairway. The point is not only to use this energy at the proper moment, but to so arrange the mechanics of the stroke that as much wrist action as possible is allowed. To this end attention must be given to the cocking of the left wrist. Bobby Jones, despite his fluid swing which was so mechanically perfect, was always concentrating on this point in the stroke. Despite the fact that his stroke was muscle memorized perfectly, this important assignment of wrist cock would be neglected unless he paid particular and constant attention to it. Countless other golfers have had the same experience. The average golfer cannot afford to neglect it. This does not mean that the hands should become stiff and locked at this point which robs the golfer of any hand and wrist feeling. Let the club shaft be held largely in the fingers so that tension is eliminated and the wrist can be cocked with the flexibility and power of a twisted rubber band.

36 Horses Entered in Britain's Hundredth Grand National Race

ANTREE, ENG. (AP)—The Grand National steeplechase, Britain's annual lap of sanity, will be run for the hundredth time tomorrow—and even if no horse finishes the course it'll be an historic event.

All the trimmings have been arranged. Champagne has been reduced to six shillings a swig. Daffodils are down to a penny a bunch. And if most of the 250,000 persons here choose the daffodils, it'll establish a new all-time Grand National record.

These 250,000 have been congesting Liverpool for 24 hours now. They've evidently been at Grand Nationals before, because they all look as if they're expecting something to happen.

That something will start happening at 2:15 p. m. (9:15 a. m. central standard time) when 36 of the world's greatest leapers start down "Suicide Lane." Last year 33 started out; seven got home. There have been times when they didn't have enough finishers to make up entrants.

The winning owner will get approximately $35,000. In sweepstakes prizes the victor will distribute $2,400,000—and if Royal Mail wins, $1,950,000 of those "sweeps" prizes will go to the United States.

U. of W., Virginia Get Together on Pairings for Card Badger Boxers Seeking Seventh Straight Win Of Season

MADISON (AP)—After considerable juggling Coaches John Walsh of Wisconsin and Eddie Vachresse of West Virginia agreed today on pairings for the Badger-Mountaineer boxing program at the university field house tomorrow night.

Their probable lineups: 115 pounds: Art Walsh (W) versus Paul Miller (WV). 125 pounds: Jim Walsh (W) versus Russ Stoner (WV). 135 pounds: Omar Crocker (W) versus Edward Linger (WV). 145 pounds: Joe Czys (W) versus Charles Ward (WV). 155 pounds: Henry Strand (W) versus Marshall Previle (WV). 165 pounds: Vito Schiro (W) versus Lou Fanetti (WV). 175 pounds: Truman Torgerson (W) versus Sam Littlepage (WV). Heavyweight: Elmer Duster (W) versus Ashby Dickerson (WV).

Vachresse, whose team is rated strongest in the higher weights, got several concessions from Walsh to round out a card with good representation from the bantam to heavyweight classes. Linger, whose ring experience is limited, drew a tough assignment as a result of the shifts. He faces Crocker, Wisconsin's knockout specialist who has stopped his last four opponents, the last three within a minute of the opening gong.

Vachresse originally scheduled Littlepage, Mountaineer captain, for a bout with Captain Schiro at 165 pounds. Neither has been defeated since 1935 and the match looked like the highlight of the evening. But Vachresse reconsidered and put Littlepage, who will be fighting the last bout of his college career, in his usual 175 pound division against Torgerson.

Two changes were made in the Wisconsin lineup. Joe Czys replaced Ray Chisholm at 145 pounds, and Dushak, who need last week's returned to the heavyweight assignment.

There is one more match, against Washington State, on the Wisconsin schedule. The Badgers are undefeated after six matches.

Wins Tilt at Chicago
Chicago—Twenty-two teams, including the two Indian entries, headed into the second session of the 15th national Catholic high school basketball tournament today.

Another, St. Bede of Peru, the Illinois state champions, saw its title chances and a 21 game winning streak snapped at the same time.

Marquette University High of Milwaukee came through with a last half rush to eliminate St. Bede, 34 to 28. St. Xavier of Louisville, Ky., nosed out Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, Ind., 37 to 34.

Caras Regains Billiard
Title by Beating Ponzi
New York (AP)—Jimmy Caras, the youthful pocket billiards star from Wilmington, Del., is back on top of the world in his favorite game—but Ralph Greenleaf is still around.

Caras retained the world championship last night by defeating the veteran Andrew Ponzi, of Philadelphia, 125 to 22, in the final game of the second playoff series, a game that went 16 innings.

Greenleaf, who turned down a chance to defend his world championship, with a terse question about how many times a man must win the title, is still to be beaten. Until he ticks Greenleaf, Caras probably will feel his championship isn't secure.

St. Paul's, Oldest Lutheran Church in Appleton, Now Has Membership of More Than 600 Families

Editor's note: This is the sixth of a series of stories tracing the history of Appleton churches from the time of their organization to the present.

BY VIOLA HELLERMANN
The oldest Lutheran church in Appleton is St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran, which was organized in 1867 as a German Evangelical group and 11 years later became affiliated with the Wisconsin Lutheran synod. By the end of the first year the congregation had 47 members. Today it has 630 families, comprising about 1,860 persons.

On Aug. 19, 1867, the congregation was organized at the courthouse as a German Evangelical group by George Kroiss, Louis Schinz, Carl Scherck, John Popke, Carl Kesting, Louis Aloes, Reinhold, William and Albert Breitung, Heinrich Draube, Charles Brunnig, John Falk, Philip Weis and Emil Weis.

In 1868 the first church was built on a plot of ground donated by Anson Ballard on the corner of Morrison and Fisk streets, now N. Morrison and E. Franklin streets.

From the congregation's inception until April, 1869, the Rev. Christian Lieb was leader of the group. His successor was the Rev. H. Sieckmann, who remained till 1878, when the congregation decided to call a pastor who was affiliated with the Wisconsin Lutheran Synod.

Accept Constitution
In October, 1878, the congregation called the Rev. John Hottelwaker, Milwaukee, whose pastorate lasted until 1882. Under his leadership the church accepted a Lutheran constitution, which was signed by Fred Koehnke, Fred Stark, August Assmann, August Klein, John Schultz, Henry Dierke, John Arnold, Louis Weis and John Lipske. Many of the former members signed during the course of the year.

The congregation built its first Christian day school on a site just east of the church building. Because of ill health Pastor Hottelwaker was transferred to another state, and the Rev. John Gensicke came here to succeed him in 1882. During his pastorate an addition was built to the church and a new school building, still in daily use, was erected in 1893. By this time the membership had grown to 170 voting members.

The Rev. T. J. Sauer, present honorary pastor of the congregation, came to St. Paul's in 1895, after having served at Elkhorn, Wis., and Bay City, Mich.

New Church Erected
In 1905 it was decided to build a new church, and on May 27, 1906, the cornerstone was laid. The new church, on the site of the old one, was dedicated Feb. 24, 1907. From that time on such large gains were made in membership that in 1922 it became necessary to engage an assistant pastor, the Rev. F. M. Brandt, who is serving the congregation now with the Rev. Mr. Sauer.

During the winter of 1931-32 the church building was improved in preparation for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the church dedication, celebrated on Feb. 28, 1932. A new

Only six pastors have served St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran congregation since it was organized shortly after the Civil war, and two of them, the Rev. F. M. Brandt, lower right, and the Rev. T. J. Sauer, upper right, are still with the church. Pastor Brandt came here in 1922 as an assistant, and in 1925, when Pastor Sauer asked to be relieved of his duties as head pastor, the former was given the position. Pastor Sauer has been with the church over 42 years. The first church building, erected in 1868, is shown in the small picture, organ was installed, the interior was redecorated, a steam heating system was installed and the church basement was rebuilt. In January, 1935, Pastor Sauer by his own request was relieved of his duties as head pastor, and Pastor Brandt assumed the position. During the same year the old parsonage was torn down and a new one was built at a cost of $12,000, being dedicated on Feb. 9, 1936. On Jan. 31, 1936, the fiftieth anniversary of Pastor Sauer's service in the ministry was observed with appropriate services.

"I GO FOR ACTION!"

I DRIVE A DODGE"

says Sonja Henie

STAR OF 20TH CENTURY-FOX "HAPPY LANDING"

READ WHAT SONJA HENIE SAYS:
"I have always admired anyone who is full of life and action. Naturally I admire those same qualities in a motor car—and that's why I'm so delighted with my new Dodge! As you would say it...it's so 'fast on its feet' in traffic—and you almost seem to float when you're gliding over the open road. It's so marvelously easy to handle, too!"

"IT'S A SONJA HENIE ON WHEELS!"

THANK you, Sonja Henie... that's magnificent praise from the Queen of Action—the girl whose grace and ease have thrilled more millions than any other sports performer who ever lived!

And the new Dodge? Well, there's no better way to describe it than to say, "it's a Sonja Henie on wheels!" Yes, sir...just five minutes in the driver's seat tells you that. For you've never swung the wheel of a car that responds to your will so alertly. And "alert" is the word. For that's how easily this new Dodge handles... how deftly it turns...how eagerly it answers to the gentle urge of your fingers.

Did you say durability? Economy? They're both here! For under the hood of this streamlined beauty purrs a giant of velvet power! Dynamite in kid gloves! Battleship ruggedness in silken wraps! A money-saving powerhouse which owners everywhere say delivers from 18 to 24 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

If you're thinking of paying more money for a car, remember this: Dodge actually costs far less than some cars that do not give you as much. Or, if you think your purse-limit is one of the smallest cars, Dodge is priced so close to the low-priced cars that you'll hardly notice the difference!

THE SECRET OF DODGE DEPENDABILITY
Have you ever wondered why Dodge cars have such a great reputation for dependability, ruggedness and long life? The answer lies in the fact that for years Dodge has deliberately engineered and built its cars not only for the first owner, but for the second, third and even fourth owners! In fact, records show that Dodge owners who buy new Dodge cars every year or two years use only a fraction of the total mileage built into them! That's just one reason why 142,922 new car buyers have switched from other cars to Dodge in the past year. And that's also why those who really know used car values are saying the Dodge used cars offered by Dodge dealers are the finest buys on the market.

Heads Roll, Personal Liberty Crushed As Nazi Agitator Becomes der Fuehrer

This is the last of three articles which bring to focus, the readers to Hitler's personality.

BY MORGAN M. BEATTY

New York—When Adolf Hitler's march on Berlin fizzled in 1933, the Nazi chieftain decided to talk himself into power.

But you can't talk yourself into anything from a cell and that's where Hitler found himself when his 1923 coup failed.

So, the ex-corporal devoted himself to the next best thing—the writing of his autobiography. He called the work "Mein Kampf"—"My Battle" or "My Fight."

It was a constant repetition of political themes he had been pounding at Germans since the war.

"Get up, German workers; you're not whipped," was the general idea. Hatred of Russia and the Jews ran through the 700-odd pages. German superiority was the keynote.

Heads Will Roll

The book was an outpouring of Hitler's passionate love for the fatherland. Nothing had stirred it not even a baptism of fire from German regular army troops. Even on the witness stand he had insisted on preaching his bold plan for German domination of Central Europe. He had predicted that heads would roll when he assumed absolute power.

It all seemed so ludicrous. And yet millions of Germans were only too eager to listen. German authorities of the day must have sensed that, for Hitler was paroled within a year. Then began his final, successful assault on the republic.

Biographers, news correspondents, medical men, friends and enemies all have tried to explain the house-pose that made Hitler the supreme law in Germany. None has succeeded, yet all seem to catch a part of the idea.

For instance, a psychologist says Hitler has a mother love complex, brought on by his father's tyranny, and his own early failures in art. This interpreter sees Hitler's unswerving purpose to dominate the Germanic people as an effort to prove to mother Hitler's memory that her son was the master of his destiny.

Others tell you Hitler arouses the twin emotions of love and fear in his followers, eventually merging them into a frenzy of devotion.

Life Of Contradictions

Still others credit everything to Hitler's genius as a propagandist. It is public knowledge that a few of his intimate followers have been covered with the mud of sex scandal. The one such man, Ernst Roehm, was the only person who dared call Hitler by his first name.

Yet his enemies produce no evidence that Hitler himself is anything but normal. On occasion he certainly has shown himself brave, resolute, and equipped with the powers of genius.

Hitler's personal and public life are a succession of contradictions. He remains a bachelor while preaching that Germans should marry and produce more stalwart sons. In his early life, he preferred idleness, yet he has rebuilt Germany on the preachment that work is a glorious adventure, a patriotic duty.

He professes a consuming passion for the people, tells the world they are his boss. Yet he rules them with absolute authority.

Hitler emerged from Landsberg fortress proud and resourceful and marched straight toward political power. Each year he and his followers talked themselves into more seats in the Reichstag, until, by 1933, they had the balance of power. Then they deeded the law-makers, and waited for the inevitable crisis.

The Hour Strikes

When it arrived, and the beloved President von Hindenburg asked Hitler to become chancellor, the Nazi hour had struck. Hitler abolished the republic, made the Reichstag a rubber stamp, made the nation into a centralized state. Freedom of speech and the press went by the board, now that they were no longer of use to him.

Up sprang the secret police, the organization that paved the way a year or so later for Hitler's purge of enemies within the party. Old foes within the party. Old foes within the party. Old foes within the party.

At 4-H Gathering

Additional Clubs Expected To be Organized in Hortonville Area

Hortonville—Between twenty and thirty boys and girls from this territory attended the meeting Sunday of the Pleasant Hills 4-H club at the home of Mrs. B. Warming.

The meeting was for the purpose of organizing more clubs in this territory, including a group of girls from Happy Valley school, which Mrs. A. Handschke and Mrs. E. Lueck will lead; a group of girls from Hortonville; a group from west of Hortonville and the organized group of boys of the Pleasant Hills club.

Chester A. Dumond, assistant county agent, attended the meeting and explained 4-H club work in all its phases.

Leaders hope that several clubs may be organized so that a community 4-H club gathering or a 4-H fair may be held in the fall.

Leaders of the local club are Erwin Handschke, adult leader, and Wilbur Warming, junior leader.

A county leaders' meeting will be held at Seymour in April. The next meeting of the Pleasant Hills club will be held April 5 at the A. Handschke home. Lunch was served Sunday at the Warming home after the meeting.

Kornit Beckman, former Hortonville young man and a graduate of the local high school in 1934, is employed by the International Business corporation. For the last year he has been stationed at San Francisco acting as service man for the company and teaching a class. Recently he was sent to Butte, Mont., to oversee the operation of several machines the company installed in that city. He has returned to San Francisco.

Services at the Community Baptist church are as follows: 10 o'clock Sunday morning, church Bible school with lesson on "Side-Stepping Responsibilities," 11 o'clock, song and worship service with anthem by the choir, and sermon subject, "The Gospel in Isaiah." At 2:30 Sunday afternoon, the Pioneer Young People's society will meet at 5 o'clock Thursday evening, March 24, a public pancake supper will be served.

Put a tablespoonful of one of the following into each cup before adding custard for baking: Caramel syrup, maple syrup, brown sugar, mixed with cinnamon, grated sweet chocolate, candied fruits, sliced nuts or coconut. The extra ingredient may also be sprinkled over the top of each cup when it is half-baked.

26 Candidates in Clintonville Race For City Offices

Mayor Washburn Faces Two Opponents at Polls April 15

Clintonville—Having filed their nomination papers, 26 candidates will seek election to 16 city offices at the spring election Tuesday, April 15.

Interest centers in the mayoralty race, where three candidates have filed. They are Mayor A. A. Washburn, who is completing his first term; Herman Kratzke, who has previously served as mayor for several terms; and S. W. Brunner, former city attorney.

A lively contest is also expected for the office of city clerk, where S. J. Tilleson, incumbent, will be opposed by Frank Sinkewicz, a newcomer to city politics. Dr. Robert Fischer, city treasurer for many years, will be unopposed as will also be Justice of Peace E. E. Larson.

Matt Zehren, veteran city assessor, is being opposed by Harvey Haskins; and the office of constable is being sought by Earl Grimes and Merrill Bouck.

Contests for seats on the city council will take place in three of the five wards, while Fred Gansen, Second ward alderman, and Fred Tanner, incumbent in the Third ward, have no opposition. In the First ward, Alderman Herman V. Larson is seeking reelection against Louis Krause, a former council member. Arnold Schroeder, a new figure in city political circles, is seeking the post of Fourth ward alderman against George Berndt, incumbent. Herbert Bovee, a former councilman, is running against Albert Winter, Fifth ward alderman, who seeks reelection.

For the office of supervisor, there will be a race in only two wards. Charles Bennett has filed papers in the Third ward against Ferdinand Goerlinger, who has held the post for many years. In the Fifth ward, Henry Weller, incumbent, will be opposed by George Lang, a former member of the county board. Supervisors E. J. Perkins of the First ward, Arthur Steenblock of the Second, and Charles Binder of the Fourth, have no opposition.

Polling places will be the same as last year. Voters of the First ward will cast their ballots at the Odd Fellow hall on E. Seventh street. Second and Third ward voters will ballot at the Charles Christianson building on S. Main street; while the city hall will again be the voting place for the Fourth and Fifth wards.

Military funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon for Leo Winkel, 44, a lifelong resident of this city. The Rev. County Nurse Speaks

The subject of Child Welfare was discussed by two social service workers of this community before a meeting of the Junior Woman's club Monday evening at the library. Miss Estelle Jung, Waupaca county nurse, talked on her work among the unfortunate families of this county and explained her child welfare program in the home and school. She also spoke on the care and prevention of tuberculosis.

Miss Renetta Meyer of Oshkosh, field representative of the juvenile department of the state board of control, told about her duties in the child welfare program of this district, which consists of about six counties. Miss Meyer assists local authorities in the adoption of orphan children or the placing of children in foster homes. She discussed some of the causes and care of delinquent children and the county's part in their welfare.

The program also included two piano selections by Miss Louise Schur. During the business session, members of the club voted to cancel arrangements for the annual style show, which had been scheduled for March 29. The evening closed with the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Frank Joswiak, Mrs. Harley Powell and Mrs. Robert Winkler, Jr.

The Shawano Junior Woman's club has been invited here for the next regular meeting on Monday evening, April 4. The local club will present a play, "Toast and Tea," as a feature of the entertainment.

—AN OLD PROVERB

In other words, when "bargain" brands beckon, it is well to recall that penny wise is often pound-of-coffee foolish. True economy lies in finding the coffee that is unvarying in the cup... fresh and fragrant and friendly, with unforgettable taste. For sixty years, it has been the aim of Hills Bros. to provide coffee like that. A growing host of users have proved for themselves that Hills Bros. Coffee — The Correct Grind — gives the utmost in flavor in every cup... again and again.

Chapter Three
The Sacred Boundary
Cissy said in a burst of impatience, "They're taking something from you, Rube--and this country--you know you don't belong here! It's beautiful, but it's finished. You're new. Raw. You thrive on struggle. Come back where people have red blood and are proud of it!" She stalked before him into the house. "Which is my room?"

Reuben told her and watched her ascending the stairs on quick impatient feet. Trust Cissy to put her finger on the weak spot. Unoubtedly he knew now, what he had been fighting hard to ignore. Judith Goodloe was keeping him in this sheltered valley, making him contented here--happy even, with that part of him which, even as a small boy, wanted beauty and

Claim Only Half Of Relief Funds Will be Expended

County Boards Association Wants State to Pay More for Aid

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—At the rate of expenditure during the last six months, the LaFollette administration will disburse only about $1,500,000 of the $3,000,000 emergency state relief fund voted by the 1937 legislature, figures produced today by the Wisconsin County Boards' association show.

Funds released to counties and localities as special grants from October 1937, through March of this year totaled $749,257, the association pointed out, although the peak loads for local relief departments are generally reached during the months of December, January, February, and March. The appropriation was intended as a stop-gap between the 1937 special session of the legislature last October, and the next regular legislative session in January, 1938.

Direct grants to counties and localities for March totaled $111,455, the association learned. Most of that sum went to the stricken northern counties, with the following amounts to the northeastern section: Marinette $3,725; Oconto $6,275; Shawano $2,100; Door $500; Oneida-Hobart Indians $500.

The sum of $22,500 was allocated for state office administration, certification services, transient camps, surplus commodity activities, and garden seeds to be distributed to relief clients.

The association, again declaring the necessity for larger state participation in Wisconsin's relief expenditures, exhibited its own figures to show that the total relief benefits paid in Wisconsin during the last quarter of 1937 was $2,749,533, of which the state granted only $165,849.

The association added that while the relief load during the first quarter of this year will almost certainly be higher when final figures are available, the proportion of state relief grants will remain approximately the same.

The WORLD OF STAMPS

BY JAMES B. HATCHER
The familiar face of Hollow Horn Bear, the Brule-Sioux who could orate, is going to give way to that of James Buchanan, the 15th President, on Uncle Sam's 14-cent stamp. Personally, we shall miss Hollow Horn Bear.

The presidential gallery of the recently announced new U. S. regular series will introduce 12 former chief executives to the album. Even William Henry Harrison, who was President only a month.

To make way for these portraits, the pictorial must go—the Statue of Liberty, the Sioux, Golden Gate, Niagara, the Statue of the Arlington, the Lincoln Memorial, the Capitol and goddess of freedom.

The Presidents will be chronologically arranged by terms, with the addition of Benjamin Franklin and Martha Washington on the 4- and 11-centers. New values will be 4, 13, 18, 19, 35 and 40 cents. Here is the complete lineup, according to Postmaster Farley, with newcomers in bold face type: 1-c Washington, 11-cent Martha Washington, 2-c John Adams, 3-c Jefferson, 4-c Madison, 41-c Monroe, 5-c John Quincy Adams, 6-c Jackson, 7-c Van Buren, 8-c William H. Harrison, 9-c Tyler, 10-c Polk, 11-c Taylor, 12-c Fillmore, 13-c Pierce, 14-c Buchanan, 15-c Lincoln, 16-c Johnson, 17-c Grant, 18-c Hayes, 19-c Garfield, 20-c Arthur, 25-c Cleveland, 30-c Benjamin Harrison, 35-c McKinley, 40-c Theodore Roosevelt, 50-c Taft, $1 Wilson, $2 Harding, $5 Coolidge.

The 41-cent value throws Monroe (fifth President) and the next 16 Presidents one behind their correct numbers.

The design is still to be determined. There is no assurance that the post office department will care to use the winning design of last year's treasury department contest.

Ceres Modernized

France's 1935 classics, with head of Ceres motif, are in danger of being eclipsed by the new 1-franc 75 blue adhesive. The design is similar, but heavier, and lacks the eye-pleasing balance of the early Ceres type. The central medallion has been kept intact.

Upcoming products of the Atelier du Timbre are said to include: (1.) A special for the 100th birthday of Leon Gambetta, the statesman.

grew thickest and blended its spicy fragrance with the aroma and Oolong and mint.

Sometimes the young people clamored to have the table close to the swimming pool, the tennis courts, or down on the lowest terrace which gave upon the meadow where hordes for trying new hunters had been placed. Usually though, it was in "Gran's own corner," that everyone assembled during the long summer afternoons to fritter away a golden hour.

Amanda took her leisurely way there—a slender erect, white-haired figure. She crossed the columned portico and formal stone terrace, walked, between box, down five steps to clipped green sward, past century-old rose arbors, a lily pond, and turned into a narrow walk, where wild violets pointed the way to her peacock chair under the oak.

About to seat herself, Mrs. Good-ham straightened and stood at attention. Her keen old ears had caught a sound more heavenly than the chanting of celestial choirs—the sound of galloping horsehoofs. The light staccato footfall of the thoroughbred, as different from the more deliberate tread of his plebeian cousin as day is from night.

"The children are coming! Hear, Amos?"

"Yes, Miss Mandy."

"Be sure there are enough sandwiches. The children will be hungry."

"Ain't it the truth?" Amos smiled broadly. "It do beat all how they can eat."

"Miss Judith likes strawberry jam—and there will be guests."

"Woe To The Climber!"

There were always guests. The Goodhams never "gave a tea," but if one was lucky enough to be inside the boxwood hedge, which grew three rows thick in places, one received a fragrant pink lustre cup from Amanda's hand.

Having tea at Goodloe's Choice was like being presented at a private drawing room something to boast about casually. It placed one very definitely, for although the hour was informal, Amanda did not pass out tea promiscuously. Woe be to the climber who penetrated her hedge.

Through contented eyes she looked about her. Of all her possessions—they were many and varied—she placed the highest value upon the boxwood hedge. It was a concrete symbol of all that had gone to make up the 70 amazing years of her life.

She had not been born within its aristocratic confines. A Goodloe had married her, and her substantial bonds, after the loss of a beloved young wife and when the sheriff's hammer threatened the box. Amanda had saved it then from greedy creditors. Many times since, she had saved it from the spendthrift Goodloes themselves.

Spicily fragrant, greenly remote, it guarded her from an intrusive world, while it proclaimed more blatantly than a radio loud speaker, the difference between those within and those without its sacred boundary. In proportion to the sacrifices she had made for it, Amanda loved the boxwood. Intensely, jealously, proudly she loved it. In the innermost depths of her soul she venerated it.

The first Goodloe, who had come over with Calver and his cavaliers, had brought with him hundreds of tiny green shoots embedded in the beloved soil of old England. It blended so well with the new strange earth that the box took root at once and started bravely to outline "Goodloe's Choice" in Lord Baltimore's domain.

He built well. On this sixth of May, in the year of Our Lord, Nineteen hundred and thirty-five, the great house, an impressive monument to his perseverance, stood overlooking the landscape of his dreams and Amanda waited to see young Judith Goodloe put her hunter over the boxwood—six feet high and broad in proportion—at the very spot where her ancestor
